You're Invited!
Celebrate the 100th Anniversary of Women’s Right to Vote
Learn What’s Happening in Your State

Throughout 2019 and 2020, Americans will celebrate the centennial of the extension of the right to vote to women. When Congress passed the 19th Amendment in 1919, and 36 states ratified it by August 1920, women’s right to vote was enshrined in the U.S. Constitution.

Now there are local, state and national centennial celebrations in the works including shows and parades, parties and plays, films and performers, teas and more.

Learn more, get involved, enjoy the activities, and recognize as never before that women’s hard fought achievements are an important part of American history.

Inside This Issue:
Great Resources
100 Suffragists
African American Suffragists
Nationwide Events

Centennial Events Planned in Communities Across the Country

For more than a year, women throughout the country have been meeting, planning and organizing for the 2020 centennial of women winning the right to vote. The focal point is passage of the 19th Amendment, celebrated on Equality Day, August 26, 2020.

After Congress observed the centennial of their passing the amendment in June 2019, some states have been commemorating their legislature’s ratification 100 years ago with official proclamations, historical reenactments, exhibits, events and more.

There is a wealth of material available here and online which will help you stay up to date. State centennial commissions and other groups are leading the way. The enfranchisement of half the country is a cause for celebration all year long – let’s celebrate together!
Suffragists were a positive force in American life for more than seven decades before 1920 because they continuously spoke out for their democratic rights. Their continual campaigns were inspired by both a deep love of democracy and the courage to confront the forces that stood against them.

Throughout their long and difficult struggle for their own civil rights, suffragists were satirized, laughed at, divided, attacked, belied, lied to and callously dismissed. That they persevered, particularly without violent reaction, is a testament to their enduring strength and faith.

In contrast to their public treatment, however, these activists – who were grandmothers, mothers, aunts, sisters, daughters, cousins and close friends – were a point of pride and a source of inspiration in many families. Harriet Tubman was devoted to — and heralded by — her family members. Susan B. Anthony’s extended family adored her. The same was true for countless suffragists from all backgrounds. Those who knew them knew they were heroes – brave and visionary women working for a better life, especially for women.

Part of a Family

Honoring these women as members of families and communities offers a richer understanding of the nature and impact of their movement on our personal lives. American suffragists were individual members with names and homes and histories that we can discover, and perhaps emulate. Celebrating their lives and achievements, locally or in their state, offers a way to put politics aside and focus on how women throughout the country not only worked and raised families but also crafted a successful plan to win their own independence.

Taking power has always been a bold proposition, and suffragists reached their goal throughout the country by boldly asserting their rights then recruiting allies, building coalitions, converting opponents, winning elections and finally convincing lawmakers of the justice of their cause.

And, of course, they did all this on their own with little backing from wealthy men, businesses or politicians. They did it, simply, with the support of their families and friends. As many suffragists have testified, they couldn’t have done it without them. Parents, spouses, children and others played a vital role in the lives of generations of activists. The faith and support of their loved ones strengthened these women’s sense of purpose and personal power. For many, their churches played a similar role fostering community support and offering encouragement as well as a platform for action.

Suffragists’ views were shaped by family experiences and strong personalities as much as by social norms and legal restrictions. Each woman’s drive for freedom was personal. Each found her own voice and her own courage.

The suffrage movement involved families from countless backgrounds, and what united these women — literally from around the world — was their quest for freedom and equality. It is because so many American men and women at the time did not agree with them that the women’s suffrage movement was so difficult, and so essential.

Fathers, Sons, Brothers, Husbands and Friends

Surprising to some, many of suffragists’ strongest supporters were their husbands, fathers, brothers, uncles or other men. There were men throughout the country who were suffragists and lent their support to advancing women’s cause. Showing family influence, many young female suffragists were inspired to take action in the political arena because their fathers were politically active.

It is a testimony to their democratic values that a large number of American men consistently supported women’s cause. There were more than 50 electoral campaigns and in every one, a large number of men, often above 40%, voted in favor of equal suffrage. A majority of male voters in New York, California and eleven other states actually approved it. In 1920, after the overwhelmingly male Congress and 36 state legislatures approved it, the 19th Amendment was ratified and rightly hailed as truly a mutual victory.

1920 and Beyond

Because the federal government did not fully enforce the 19th Amendment, and some states did not embrace its clear purpose of political equality, we particularly want to honor those heroic multicultural women who kept at it after 1920 and went on to win enfranchisement and champion civil rights and community development over the following decades.

This centennial year offers us the perfect opportunity to proudly recognize the women from all cultural backgrounds — family members, neighbors and distant ancestors — who laid the groundwork for the great social changes that followed. The values they championed — building community, reducing violence, giving everyone a voice and being fair — were the impetus for many to join the efforts to eliminate racism, establish justice and defend our democracy that continue today.

So, in addition to all the ideas listed in this issue, we want to suggest planning events families love, like anniversary or block parties, picnics, church and civic gatherings, and reunions as additional ways to recognize women’s centennial. We can all celebrate the real life nature of women’s concerns, the importance of support from family and friends, and the enormous impact that women in the home, in the community, and in government have had on our nation.

Winning the 19th Amendment is a monumental achievement to celebrate together all year long.
What's Happening in Your State?

Centennial Celebrations Underway Nationwide

Over the past few years, residents of many states have organized women’s suffrage centennial organizations, occasionally with state funds. These groups are the hubs of planning in each state with events, activities, projects including statues and highway markers, and many other efforts.

Their websites are rich with content – history, information, calendars, biographical profiles, research, teacher guides, curriculum, products and much more. Spend some time at each one and you’ll be surprised at what you find. And this is only part of what’s happening.

The experiences and conditions of Black and minority women are being examined and honored as never before. There has never been such activity at the state and local levels and it shows how the breadth and depth of the three-generation, national women’s suffrage movement is finally being recognized.

Arizona

They are also raising funds for the first statue of an Arizona woman, state suffrage leader Frances Willard Munds, their website is www.cawomenssuffrageproject.org, is planning events and offering resources and online exhibits, https://ualrexhibits.org/suffrage/virtual-exhibit/

Arkansas

The Arkansas Women’s Suffrage Centennial Project, https://ualrexhibits.org/suffrage/, is planning events and offering resources and online exhibits, https://ualrexhibits.org/suffrage/virtual-exhibit/

California

CA 2020 Women’s Suffrage Project, www.ca2020suffrageproject.org, is making plans and has produced centennial pins and poppy seed packets.

In April 2019, recognizing the upcoming centennial, the Los Angeles Board of Education voted unanimously to call for a special celebration, “Remembering Women’s Suffrage Day,” on Aug. 18, 2020. They encourage school social studies programs to teach suffrage history and women’s leadership.

The Renaissance Society (RP), the life-long learning organization in Sacramento, is part of a 19th Amendment Centennial Celebration Committee. Since the mothers of many members were born when they had no voice in government, they are passionate about passing this story of perseverance, hope and sacrifice to younger generations. A kick-off event will include the Hear My Voice program from the Living Voices company, http://www.livingvoices.org/suff/suff.html. High Tea, a silent auction and a surprise historical figure. The Society also encourages seminar leaders to provide content on the 19th Amendment and other aspects of our democracy.

Muffy Francke, muffyf@me.com.

The Los Altos History Museum, https://www.losaltoshistory.org/, is mounting an exhibition to Nov. 8, 2020 that will tell stories of local women and men who fought for equality and advances in education, high tech, and labor.

The Suffrage Circle of Women, a group of women in Long Beach, is planning events, performances and educational programs beginning in August 2019. www.LBSuffrage100.com.

The AAUW Thousand Oaks is planning a Suffrage Tea for next March and will be featuring a play by California suffragist Selina Solomons and a musical program. jeanneette honek jhonek@roadrunner.com

Come to a Sacramento River Cats home game against the Albuquerque Isotopes on Aug. 19, 2019, and celebrate Women Power at the Ballpark. Join the Capital Women’s Campaign as they pay tribute to the 99th anniversary of the 19th amendment. Follow them on Facebook.

Also in the Sacramento area, a Pre-Centennial Tea will be held on Aug. 24, 2019, contact quemere@sbcglobal.net.

Pasadena Celebrates 2020 is planning a suffrage centennial float for the New Year’s Day Rose Bowl Parade. They have launched an extensive campaign to raise funds for the float, whose theme is “Women Win the Vote – Years of Hope, Years of Courage.” The group will be holding events, exhibits, educational presentations and parties to seek both local and national contributions. Additional events, exhibits, shows and more are planned for Pasadena and the Los Angeles area in 2020 with emphasis on voting. https://pasadenacelebrates2020.org/

A Suffrage Centennial Networking Conference is being hosted in San Diego by the National Women’s History Alliance January 9-12, 2020. Contact https://nwhanews.org

2020 WOMEN & THE VOTE

Colorado

Florida

AAUW Flagler is developing a series of events and identifying significant suffragists and their descendants, https://flaflaglercounty-fl.aauw.net/

The Women’s Foundation of Collier County will hold its Power of the Purse 2020 Centennial Event on Dec. 6, 2019 in Naples featuring a “Suffrage Roll Call” with local women’s organizations, https://wfcollier.org/powerofthepurse/.

The Villages, an “active living” community with close to 150,000 residents in Central Florida, is joining with neighbors to honor the centennial. Called S.O.S. – Sisters of Suffrage, the diverse group includes local LWV and DAR members who have already held a luncheon and a rally with speakers and participants in period costume. A suffrage parade is in the works, along with many educational events and an EqualTea (Aug. 16). Contact Jill Greenberg at mwhcJill@comcast.net.

Sarasota County has a committee including members of the Florida Studio Theater planning activities like parades, school programs and a play that can serve as models for county schools, The Suffragist Project, https://www.floridastudiotheatre.org/suffragist-project or Sonia Fuentes, spfuentes@comcast.net.

The Woman’s Club of Coconut Grove, founded 1891, is planning events including an afternoon celebration on Nov. 2, 2020 the anniversary of eight million women turning out to vote for the first time. Enjoy a movie, speaker and wider discussion. https://womansclubofcoconutgrove.com/

Idaho

Idaho Women 100, www.IdahoWomen100.com, great site includes resources, links, a toolkit and more.

Idaho Women in Leadership, https://www.i-wil.com/shop, has a Commemorative Medallion honoring Emma Edwards Green, the only woman to serve as mayor of Idaho City.

One exciting project is the creation of a replica of the Suffrage Wagon, modeled on Lucy Stone’s, used during the late suffrage campaigns. The wagon will tour in 2020 and be on exhibit during the Iowa State Fair in August.

Nancy Hill Cobb, a University of Northern Iowa music professor, is composing music for a new musical, “The Suffragists,” set during the final push for the 19th Amendment. Premieres June 5, 6 and 7 at the Performing Arts Center in Cedar Falls.

Iowa Public Television is producing a documentary about Carrie Catt for release in 2020.

Also check Carrie Chapman Catt’s girlhood home, http://catt.org/.

Illinois

Kentucky

The Kentuckiana Women Suffrage Project, https://kentuckywomansuffrageproject.org/ KyWomanSuffrage at H-Kentucky and networks.h-net.org/k-kentucky includes profiles, teaching resources, timelines, a bibliography, blog, and sites on the Votes for Women Trail. Recently, the Project dedicated a Pomery Highway Marker to Susan Look Avery, abolitionist and staunch suffragist who spoke in Chicago for “Justice to the Negro.”

Maine

The Maine Suffrage Centennial Collaborative, www.mainsuffragecentennial.org, aims for a unique commemoration without discrimination or exclusion.

There will be suffrage-themed events including a Historian’s Forum at the Historical Society, Suffrage Tea at the Governor’s residence Aug. 26, book groups at local libraries and a First-Friday Art Walk in Portland Nov. 1.

The Girl Scouts have a Suffrage Centennial Patch Program & Let the Girls Play! Concert with musician Kalie Shorr Nov. 1. Artworks: Big Rapids Area Arts & Humanities is a community art center with a gallery, gift shop, & classes. They will be doing exhibits, programming and collaborating with local women’s organizations to celebrate the 100 year anniversary, www.artworksinbigrapids.org.

Massachusetts

Suffrage 100 MA, the Women’s Suffrage Celebration Coalition of Massachusetts, https://suffrage100ma.org, held a Centennial Kickoff “Celebrating Strong, Bold, Remarkable Women Who Made History” on June 25, 2019 at Faneuil Hall. This is an exemplary site and organization with lots of resources and events including Celebrating Women’s Equality Day, Aug. 26 at the Swan Boats in the Boston Public Garden. The giant swans, and many attendees, wear “Votes for Women” sashes. Download and print out Suffrage Centennial Display Panels on Lucretia Mott, Louisa May Alcott and many other notable suffragists.

The Coalition will sponsor “I Want to Go to Jail,” a staged reading of an original play performed by costumed cast members from We Did it For You! on Aug. 22 at the Concord Museum.

Massachusetts Suffrage Centennial Celebration, Massachusetts Celebrates with “100 Events for 100 Years,” https://www.celebratesuffrage.org/ “Cruisin’ With Susan” Bicycle Festival, May 16, 2020, quilt exhibit, Living History and more.

Maryland

Maryland will celebrate Courageous Suffragists & Women’s Right to Vote a few days before Women’s Equality Day in 2020 at the historical Druid Hill Park in Baltimore City. There will be food, music, fun, and SisterFest, with networking and informational tables on women’s groups/evenstivities from political to social to arts/culture and more. Celebrations are also planned for parks throughout the state. https://www.womensvote100.org/maryland

She Voted: Her Fight, Our Right, the Minnesota Historical Society’s major exhibit, will open in September 2020 at the Minnesota History Center in St. Pau with a full slate of related programming. http://www.mnhs.org/

Missouri

Montana

Montana Women’s History Matters, http://montanawomenshistory.org/

Michigan

For resources, check https://www.womensvote100.org/michigan. Artworks: Big Rapids Area Arts “Massachusetts in the Woman Suffrage Movement: Revolutionary Reformers,” Barbara Berenson’s accessible history on the American Woman Suffrage Association, highlights Bay State women active at the local and national levels. She’s available for talks, barbara.f.berenson@gmail.com.

Minnesota

Groups including the state League of Women Voters, https://www.lwvmn.org/overview-of-events, AAUW and Zeta Phi Beta will celebrate Minnesota’s ratification on Sept. 8, 2019 on the State Capitol grounds. Many other groups are making plans, including a centennial parade at the Minnesota State Fair on Aug. 26, 2020.

She Voted: Her Fight, Our Right, the Minnesota Historical Society’s major exhibit, will open in September 2020 at the Minnesota History Center in St. Pau with a full slate of related programming. http://www.mnhs.org/
Returning the Suffrage Heroes to the Pages of History

INTEREST in the women’s suffrage movement has seen a resurgence with the Centennial of the 19th amendment on the horizon. This renewed interest is supported by enhanced technology that makes archives of newspapers, magazines, books, letters and other primary documents accessible as never before to all those working to understand and expand the suffrage story. This vital renewal of women’s history now includes suffrage activists who have been invisible for too long. For generations, the writings and speeches of Black and minority women were ignored and their participation in the movement minimized or omitted altogether. The story was incomplete. Black women were removed from the historical context leaving only a few iconic figures such as Sojourner Truth and Ida B. Wells-Barnett.

This has deeply impacted our country’s understanding of the many ways that African American women have contributed and still contribute to shaping our nation’s destiny. With each rediscovered article or text, the list of Black and minority suffragists grows and their voices calling for equality ring louder and clearer.

The Sunflower Quilting Bee at Arles by Faith Ringgold

Expanding Our Knowledge and Perspective About the Women’s Suffrage Movement

Leasa Graves

The Sunflower Quilting Bee at Arles

Faith Ringgold’s powerful lithograph shows eight notable African American women displaying a colorful quilt that symbolizes their communal achievements. From the left are Madam C. J. Walker, Sojourner Truth, Ida Wells, Fannie Lou Hammer, Harriet Tubman, Rosa Parks, Mary McLeod Bethune, and Ella Baker. They were all suffragists and involved in the drive for civil rights. The artist also included a fictional character on the lower left and Vincent van Gogh, known for his paintings of sunflowers, on the right.

Continues on Page 8
The Influence of the Haudenosaunee (Iroquois)

Sally Roesch Wagner

"Will your husband like to have you give the horse away?" Alice Fletcher asked. This early anthropologist was recounting an experience she’d had with a Native American woman of the Omaha Nation. The woman had just given away a "fine quality horse" and, hearing Fletcher’s question, she broke “into a peal of laughter, and she hastened to tell the story to the others gathered in her tent, and I became the target of many merry eyes,” Fletcher continued. “Laughter and contempt met my explanation of the white man’s hold upon his wife’s property.”

The Fate of Married Women

Fletcher is telling this story to a women's rights audience from around the Western world at the 1888 International Council of Women. Married women, they knew, had no legal right to their own possessions or property in most states and countries, but that was just the tip of the iceberg. Married women had no legal identity. A wife ceased to exist in the eyes of the law once she promised to obey and uttered the words “I do.” The two became one and the one was the man.

A wife lost control of her body. She had the legal obligation to submit to her husband’s sexual demands; rape laws defined “an act of unlawful sexual intercourse with someone other than the wife of the perpetrator.” Husbands had the legal right to beat disobedient wives, provided they didn’t inflict permanent damage. Children belonged to their father, who dying could even will away his unborn child to someone other than the mother to raise. With most jobs closed to women and the few available paying half (or less) of men’s wages, marriage was the only option open to women who wouldn’t inherit. The founding document of America’s women’s movement, the 1848 “Declaration of Sentiments,” summed it up well: “He has made her, if married, in the eye of the law, civilly dead.

Upstate New York

Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Matilda Joslyn Gage were the primary writers of the early women’s rights movement and, along with Susan B. Anthony, formed the leadership triumvirate of the National Woman Suffrage Association. Stanton and Gage lived on the homelands of the six nations of the Haudenosaunee (Iroquois) confederacy and knew their Native neighbors. Both wrote extensively about the social, religious, economic and political position of Indigenous women as far superior to their own. “Never was justice more perfect; never was civilization higher,” Gage wrote. Violence against women and children was rare and dealt with harshly.

Women had the absolute right to their bodies and their children; they had the final say in matters of war and peace and land. Women raised the food for their communities and controlled the collective economy; everyone had their own private property as well. While no Christian denomination allowed women to preach, Indigenous women had the responsibility for planning the spiritual ceremonies.

Properly women had voted in the colonies, but after the Revolution state laws declared it illegal for women to vote. Susan B. Anthony and others were arrested for attempting to exercise their right of citizenship, while Haudenosaunee women “were the great power among the clan, as everywhere else,” Stanton told the National Council of Women in 1891. “The original nomination of the chiefs also always rested with the women,” she told the audience. “They did not hesitate, when occasion required, ‘to knock off the horns,’ as it was technically called, from the head of a chief and send him back to the ranks of the warriors.”

Sharing Responsibility

Clan mothers and male chiefs (sachem) shared political responsibility with each clan mother having the responsibility for nominating and holding in office her chief; these appointed men carried out the business of government. A man who had stolen, was a warrior or had abused a woman could not become a chief. The clan mother had the responsibility of removing a chief who did not listen to the people and make decisions considering seven generations in the future.

“Division of power between the sexes in this Indian republic was nearly equal,” Gage told The New York Evening Post readers in 1875. Clan mothers in the six Haudenosaunee nations continue to have the political voice they have exercised since the founding of the Iroquois Confederacy in 909, long before Columbus or the Pilgrims.

While women in the United States are celebrating 100 years of constitutionally-guaranteed voting, Native Nation women have had political voice on this land for over 1000 years.

Indigenous women of numerous Native Nations had more rights, sovereignty and integrity long before Europeans arrived on these shores than we in the United States have today. As we non-native feminists listen to them, we can follow their leadership and learn from their centuries of experience just as our suffrage foremothers did.

Dr. Sally Roesch Wagner is the author of several books including Sisters in Spirit, and editor of the Women’s Suffrage Movement (Penguin Classics, 2019) from which this article is adapted. Both are available from the NWHA store.
African American Women Fight for Suffrage

Johanna Neuman

When the 19th Amendment to the Constitution was ratified in 1920, women all over the country registered to vote. However, in the Deep South, African American women were often stopped at the courthouse door. Jim Crow laws slammed it shut with literacy tests so arcane few could pass, poll taxes so steep few could afford them and, with vigilantes milling about, the very real threat of violence. It would be another four decades before those doors were forced open. Black women, who had always viewed the vote as a community asset, never lost fighting.

What Happened After 1920

In the Tidewater region of Virginia, college-educated Susie Fountain flunked the literacy test in 1920, although, as the registrar condescendingly told her, she “did very well.” In Birmingham, Alabama, Lula Murry, whose brother had died fighting for America in World War I, was so upset about being blocked from the ballot box that she wrote to the White House in 1923. “Here I stand,” she told President Calvin Coolidge, “denied the constitution rights … of the 19th Amendment.”

Three years later, a 24-year-old schoolteacher named Indiana Little led “as many as one thousand Black women and a few men” to that same Birmingham courthouse. She told the registrar that it was wrong to give literacy tests to blacks but not to whites. For voicing this obvious act of discrimination, she was arrested for vagrancy, a charge later reduced to disorderly conduct. In an affidavit given to the U.S. Justice Department, she accused her jailer of beating her “over the head unmercifully” and forcibly raping her. It would be another three decades before Indiana Little cast her first vote.

Part of Their Religion

After the Civil War, the Constitution had been amended to give newly freed black men the vote. Their female relatives showed great interest in elections, sporting Grant for President campaign buttons at work - much to the annoyance of their plantation bosses - and showing up to watch happenings at the polls. At one polling place in Macon, Georgia in 1872, black women explained that being present was “part of their religion to keep their husbands and brothers straight in politics.” Straight meant away from the Democratic Party of slavery and toward the Republican Party of Abraham Lincoln, the Great Emancipator.

That same year, activists all over the country responded to a new suffrage strategy. It was called the New Departure. Women would attempt to register by claiming the Constitutional amendments of the Reconstruction era - the 14th Amendment’s equal protection of laws and the 15th Amendment’s ban on voting discrimination - had also, inadvertently, enfranchised them, as citizens. In Rochester, New York, Susan B. Anthony registered to vote - and was arrested. At her trial, she castigated the judge for denying her a jury trial, she complained of a “high-handed outrage upon my citizen’s rights.”

In St. Louis, Missouri, Virginia Minor attempted to vote and was rebuffed. Her husband Francis filed a lawsuit seeking her rights as a citizen. A lawyer, he argued her case all the way to the Supreme Court, where it lost to an interpretation of the U.S. Constitution that held the states had power over elections. In Washington, D.C., Mary Ann Shadd Cary, a black journalist and a student at Howard Law School, led a delegation of sixty women, including one polling place in Macon, Georgia in 1872, black women explained that being present was “part of their religion to keep their husbands and brothers straight in politics.” Straight meant away from the Democratic Party of slavery and toward the Republican Party of Abraham Lincoln, the Great Emancipator.

That same year, activists all over the country responded to a new suffrage strategy. It was called the New Departure. Women would attempt to register by claiming the Constitutional amendments of the Reconstruction era - the 14th Amendment’s equal protection of laws and the 15th Amendment’s ban on voting discrimination - had also, inadvertently, enfranchised them, as citizens. In Rochester, New York, Susan B. Anthony registered to vote - and was arrested. At her trial, she castigated the judge for denying her a jury trial, she complained of a “high-handed outrage upon my citizen’s rights.”

In St. Louis, Missouri, Virginia Minor attempted to vote and was rebuffed. Her husband Francis filed a lawsuit seeking her rights as a citizen. A lawyer, he argued her case all the way to the Supreme Court, where it lost to an interpretation of the U.S. Constitution that held the states had power over elections. In Washington, D.C., Mary Ann Shadd Cary, a black journalist and a student at Howard Law School, led a delegation of sixty women, into view, squeezed in between two friends and marched the rest of the parade route with them. By the 1960s, a new civil rights movement emerged to restore the voting rights of black women and men in the South. Men of great courage, including the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., led the effort. But often it was African American women who did the grassroots organizing, becoming what one historian called “the real movers of the people.” One who answered the call was Vera Mae Piggie, a stylist whose beauty salon at 407 Ashton Street was in the heart of the black business district in Clarksdale, Mississippi.
Groundbreaking New Research Uncovers The Central Role of Black Suffragists

The Black women mentioned here represent the work already in progress to write these hero back into history. Believing in equal rights and universal suffrage, Black suffragists did not stop working in 1920. Many dedicated their lives to improving their communities and winning civil rights for all.

Engaged in the fight for equality from the beginning, Black suffragists produced works and writings that give us new insight into their motivations, objectives and accomplishments. The Women and Social Movements project now offers to libraries nationwide more than 2,000 writings by nearly 300 Black women activists in their Black Woman Suffragists Collection. https://search.alexanderstreet.com/view/work/bibliographic-entity%7Cweb_collection%7C3180493. They also offer Black Women Suffragists biographies, https://documents.alexanderstreet.com/VOTESforWOMEN:

THE POWER OF PRINT

The Crisis: A Record of Darker Races

W.E.B. Du Bois founded The Crisis in 1910 as the magazine for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). This widely read periodical highlighted race and injustice in the United States. http://www.modjourn.org/.

The California Eagle

The California Eagle was an African-American newspaper in Los Angeles, California founded by John J. Neimore and read by African American’s throughout the state.

The Woman’s Era

The first national newspaper published by and for African-American women, The Woman’s Era was established in 1892 by Boston activist Josephine St. Pierre Ruffin.

Lucy Wilmot Smith

(1861-1890) Kentucky

Lucy Wilmot Smith’s career as an educator began when she completed the teacher preparatory program at the age of sixteen. Initially working at the State Colored Baptist University, Smith went on to become a professor at Kentucky State. A journalist as well as an educator, she used her voice to champion women’s causes, encouraging young women to seek self-employment and careers in the fields of medicine and journalism. Smith died at the age of twenty-nine but left behind her ideas on women voting, “Our position is that women should have the ballot, not as a matter of expediency but as a matter of justice.”

Susan Elizabeth Frazier

(1863-1924) New York

Susan Frazier graduated from Hunter College in 1888 and became a substitute teacher in the New York public school system. When she applied to teach full-time, she was denied the position due to her race. She sued the trustees, won her case, and became the first African American teacher in an integrated public school in New York. A suffragist and writer for the Woman’s Era, Susan Frazier lectured on “Some Afro-American Women of Mark.”

Mary J. Johnson Woodlen

(1970-1933) Delaware

Mary Woodlen, one of the founders of the Wilmington Delaware Equal Suffrage Study Club, dedicated her life to improving her community. She worked with other women to secure social services including a kindergarten and health clinic. In 1914, Woodlen organized the local branch of the NAACP and served as Vice President. She was one of those who protested when the National Women’s Party refused to publicly speak out against the violation of African American voting rights.

Gertrude Elzora Durden Rush

(1880-1962) Iowa

Getrude Elzora Durden Rush’s commitment to the advancement of women is apparent in her work as a lawyer, educator, lecturer, playwright, club leader and organization founder. Gertrude Rush excelled despite laws and practices that were determined to deny her access to education and equality. As the first Black female attorney in Iowa, she focused on the legal rights of women in estate cases. After being denied admission to the American Bar Association because of its racist policies, She organized the Negro Bar Association, which later became the National Bar Association. A playwright and champion of women’s history, Gertrude Rush was a true reformer and civic leader.

Georgianna K. Offutt

(1868-1949) California

Georgianna Offutt was a suffragist, doctor, educator, writer and civic leader. She worked as a teacher after moving from Missouri to California in 1893 and earned her doctorate in Orthopedic and surgical chirupody in 1922. Offutt spoke publicly about the racism she experienced and witnessed in the world and she wrote for various periodicals including The Crisis, The California Eagle. To support and educate her neighbors in utilizing their right to vote, she served as Vice President of Alameda County League of Colored League of Voters. In Los Angeles, she dedicated her time to improving the African American community.

Victoria Clay Haley

(1877- After 1926) Missouri

Victoria Haley pursued her education in business and oration and became a public school teacher and social reform activist dedicated to improving her community and advancing women’s rights. Haley directed the social welfare efforts of many local organizations in St. Louis and served as president of the Federated Women’s Club and recording secretary of the National Association of Colored Women’s Club. During World War I, she chaired the St. Louis Chapter of the Council of National Defense. She stood her ground twice when asked to leave suffrage conferences in whites-only hotels, ensuring her participation in the conferences.

IN MEMORIAM

Rosalyn Terborg-Penn, A Pioneer in Women’s History

(October 22, 1941 – December 25, 2018)

Professor Rosalyn Terborg-Penn opened the door to a more accurate narrative of the women’s suffrage movement. Her book, “African American Women in the Struggle for the Vote,” catalyzed the rediscovery of Black suffragists and helped focus on women who had been left out of suffrage history. We honor Rosalyn Terborg-Penn, scholar and teacher, for her groundbreaking work and vital historical contributions.
100 Suffragists

Who won the vote? Who were the women who made up the suffrage movement? We offer this sampling of 100 suffrage leaders and supporters to give a flavor of the remarkable depth and variety that marked the nationwide movement and to encourage your further interest.

Most of the information here comes directly from the wonderful 5-volume set, Notable American Women. If your interest is stirred by any of these profiles, check out the full biographies in this library mainstay, also available through the Women and Social Movements subscription website along with many more biographies of suffragists.

Direct quotes are usually from Notable American Women, but we also consulted Black Women in America, BlackPast.org, state historical societies, state suffrage websites, the National Park Service and Wikipedia. Husband’s names have been included when appropriate to help researchers.

Christia Daniels Adair (Victoria, Texas) Oct. 22, 1893 - Dec. 31, 1989, fought for African American community’s rights and expansion of women’s public role in Texas, Samuel Huston College, taught, m., organized petition drives for women’s suffrage, worked with white women for passage of a primary suffrage bill in Texas (1918) but with other Black women turned away when they went to vote, fought to end racial discrimination, led the Houston NAACP for ten years, worked to desegregate city facilities, threatened by racists, founded interracial political group that opposed segregation, helped make Black Texas eligible to serve on juries, first Black woman elected to state Democratic Executive Committee, 1966, county park named for her.

Jane Addams (Cedarville, IL) Sept. 6, 1860 - May 21, 1935, progressive social reformer, had a “vein of iron” (Anne Firor Scott, Notable American Women), founded Hull House settlement in Chicago, helped “over-privileged young people” connect with real life, founded a settlement house as “an institution attempting to learn from life itself,” called “the most influential woman in Chicago history,” internationally respected symbol of woman’s equality, and a depth of tenderness that few women possess.”(Elizabeth Cady Stanton).

Susan B. Anthony

Bryn Mawr College

Rachel Foster Avery (Pittsburgh, PA) Dec. 3, 1855 - Oct. 26, 1919, Quaker, joined NWSA 1897, directed Nebraska campaign 1882, m., 3 daughters, “first adopted niece” and secretary of SBA, active with international and state suffrage groups, particularly in Chicago and Pennsylvania.

Alice Gertrude Baldwin (Baltimore, MD) 1859 - Jan. 31, 1943, educator, activist for racial and gender equality, widely respected and influential teacher, founded sister Maria into teaching in Cambridge, MA, moved to Delaware to work at Howard High School, promoted educational opportunities for black youth, praised as “efficient, caring, and inspiring,” passionate advocate for suffrage and racial progress, co-founded the African American Women’s Equal Suffrage Club (1914), marched (separately) in first Wilmington suffrage parade, sole black representative in National Woman’s Party delegation lobbying governor for ratification (1919), spoke at mass meeting, registered and encouraged African American women voters, continued to push for racial equality, branch secretary of the Wilmington NAACP for 16 years advocating housing, civil rights, opposition to segregation and the Klan, and uplifting the Black community.

Alva Erskine Smith Vanderbilt Belmont (Mobile, AL) Jan. 17, 1853 - Jan. 26, 1933, socialite and multimillionaire, philanthropist, educated in France, married Wm. Vanderbilt, 3 children, divorced and married OHP Belmont, her divorce controversial because she “had dared to criticize openly an influential man’s behavior,” drawn to suffrage by Anna Shaw 1908, wrote articles and spoke publicly and founded Political Equality League 1909, helped finance militant activities, supported Alice Paul and Congressional Union, socially prominent New York Suffrage speaker and organizer, National Woman Suffrage Association head 1912-1919, registered and encouraged African American women to vote, donated Sewall-Belmont House in D.C. to National Woman’s Party.

Mary McLeod Bethune (Mayesville, SC) July 10, 1875 - May 18, 1955, educator, orator, civil rights activist, skilled organizer, federal official, one of 17 children of freed slave parents, entered Bible Institute in Chicago planning to be a missionary, taught, m., 1 son, settled in Florida and founded school in Daytona for Black children (1904) that grew into Bethune-Cookman College, dominant personality, deeply religious, joined the Equal Suffrage League (1912), led voter registration drive despite KKK threats, established hospital for Black community, led the National Association of Colored Women, influence rising including Eleanor Roosevelt, appointed to National Youth Administration, won national recognition as able, charismatic Black leader, strengthened support for New Deal, marched and demonstrated for civil rights, advocated “Self-Control, Self-Respect, Self-Reliance and Race Pride.”

Alice Stone Blackwell (Orange, NJ) Sept. 14, 1857 - March 15, 1950, daughter of Lucy Stone and Henry Blackwell, “the child of the movement,” Boston U., leading suffrage writer and journalist, edited The Woman’s Journal for 35 years, helped merge rival suffrage groups into National American Woman Suffrage Association 1890, became recording secretary, lectured, wrote mother’s biography, translated Russian, Armenian, Yiddish and other oppressed peoples’ poetry, supported LaFollette 1924 and Sacco and Vanzetti in her 60s, went blind, shot by business agent, supported by friends, died at 98, “urged women to remain an autonomous moral force in politics.”

Antoinette Brown Blackwell (Henrietta, NY) May 20, 1825 - Nov. 5, 1921, called “Nettie,” Oberlin, classmate of Lucy Stone, first ordained minister of recognized denomination (Congregational) in the US 1853, m. Henry Blackwell’s brother, 7 children (2 died in infancy), influential lecturer and author, spoke for women’s rights, temperance, abolition 1850s, New York City and Somerville, NJ, widely honored and, although blind, lived to vote at 95.

Lillie Devereux Blake (Raleigh, NC) Aug. 12, 1832 - Dec. 30, 1913, married lawyer Frank Unstead, 2 children, survived by writing articles, stories and novels, remarried, witty and graceful lecturer, popular suffrage convention speaker, active in New York association and campaign 1879 - 1900, countered with Carrie Catt for head of National American Woman Suffrage Association 1900, organized National Legislative League to correct legal abuses.

Harriot Stanton Blatch (Seneca Falls, NY) Jan. 20, 1856 - Nov. 20, 1940, daughter of Elizabeth Cady Stanton, married Wm. G. Blatch, Lillie’s companion, 2 children, lived for 20 years in England, militant leader and fiery speaker, lobbyist, New York organizer, brought new life to suffrage movement, founded Equal Suffrage Association 1907, later the Women’s Political Union, recruited working women to suffrage, organized first large U.S. suffrage parades, marched on Albany.

Amelia Bloomer (Homer, NY) May 27, 1818 - Dec. 30, 1894, edited early Seneca Falls women’s rights paper The Lily, married lawyer, 2 adopted children, remarried Elizabeth Cady Stanton to Susan B. Anthony 1850, dressed reform pioneer, protagonist, lectured on temperance and woman’s rights in Midwest, worked for suffrage legislation in Nebraska 1856 and Iowa.

Lucy Stone and Alice Stone Blackwell

Inez Milholland Boissevain (Brooklyn, NY) August 6, 1886 - Nov. 25, 1916, Vassar and NYU, organized suffrage meeting in cemetery when Vassar outlawed it, beautiful, dynamic lecturer and lobbyist, labor lawyer and organizer, model of the “new woman,” led 1913 D.C. parade on white horse, Socialist, pacifist.

Abbreviations:

m. married

(place) birthplace

(NAW) Notable American Women reference series

AWSA American Woman Suffrage web site

ECS Elizabeth Cady Stanton

ERA Equal Rights Amendment

JWV League of Women Voters

NAACP National Association for the Advancement of Colored People

NACW National Association of Colored Women

NAWSA National American Woman Suffrage Association

NWP National Woman’s Party

NWSA National Woman Suffrage Association

SBA Susan B. Anthony

WCTU Women’s Christian Temperance Union

WILPF Women’s International League for Peace and Freedom

WS Woman Suffrage

WWA Woman Suffrage Association

WWI World War I

YMCA Young Men’s Christian Association

NWHANews.org National Women’s History Alliance
Louise de Koven Bowen (Chicago, IL) Feb. 26, 1859 - Nov. 8, 1953, Chicago journalist and prominent community leader, child welfare advocate, first juvenile court in Chicago, married banker, 4 children, led Chicago suffrage parade of 5,000 in 1916, Hull House mainstay and treasurer, led settlement after Jane Addams died, encouraged women to become a force in Chicago politics, briefly considered as Chicago mayoral candidate 1922. "She represents the highest type of womanhood and has a business ability that is needed in the mayor's office." (Chicago Daily News). "It was amusing to see how much the men resented the possibility of having a woman for mayor," she noted.

Olympia Brown (Michigan) Jan. 5, 1835 - Oct. 23, 1926, married John Willis, kept own name, 2 children, Antioch College, first ordained woman minister by full denominational authority (Unitarian), spoke nearly 300 times in Kansas suffrage campaign of 1867, Wisconsin suffrage leader, preacher, editor, tireless campaigner in South Dakota, Kansas, Iowa and Maryland 1896-1916, helped form Federal Suffrage Association to push for federal amendment 1892, over 80 years old when she burned Woodrow Wilson's speeches during a Congressional Union protest, lifelong suffragist, lived to vote.

Lucy Burns (Brooklyn, NY) July 28, 1879 - Dec. 22, 1926, red-headed Irish Catholic, Vas- sar, Yale Grad. School, organizer in England, arrested, founded Congressional Union with political partner Alice Paul, militant suffrage organizer and widely respected leader, lobbyist, speaker, teacher, editor, hunger striker. "Lucy Burns brought a fierceness and resoluteness to the American woman suffrage movement that was rarely equaled. Praised by Alice Paul as 'a thousand times more valiant than I,' Burns in her poise and strength of purpose championed Black rights and emancipation aged 150 lectures a season in the late 1860s, nationally prominent lyceum lecturer, aver- aged 150 lectures a season in the late 1860s, championed Black rights and emancipation. Her words still ring with the power of her voice. "

Laura Clay (White Hall, KY) Feb. 9, 1849 - June 29, 1941, with three sisters organized women's rights rally in Frankfort, KY 1884, formidable lecturer and lobbyist, National American Woman Suffrage Association audi- tor 1895, managed 245-acre farm, promoted states' rights and segregation, opposed federal amendment.

Anna Julia Haywood Cooper (Raleigh, NC) Aug. 10, 1858 - Feb. 7, 1904, educa- tor, author, scholar, women's club activist, high school principal, University president, daughter of a slave woman and her master, m., widowed at 21, Oberlin College (1884), outspoken advocate of equal suffrage and defender of Black women, confident and self-assured, built support for women who "were stuck at the bottom," spoke at Women's Con- gress (1892), praised by Frederick Douglass, protested apartheid to Queen Victoria, tena- cious proponent of civil rights and opponent of vaccination and educational systems that failed Black and female students, earned PhD from Sorbonne at 66, widely respected as a woman "of unusual culture and intelligence." (Sidney R. Bland in Notable Ameri- can Women)

Mary Ann Shadd Cary (Wilmington, DE) Oct. 9, 1823 - June 5, 1893, oldest of 13, moved to Canada after Fugitive Slave Act 1851, helped black refugees, edited weekly newspaper "Freedom's Journal," went on to write and edit several more newspapers, co-founded National Under-Sec- tion which 1873, led several state drives for suffrage, opposed prohibition, helped found radical People's Council opposing World War I, birth control & sex education pioneer, de- voted to the poor and marginalized, considered for sainthood by Pope Francis.

Anna Cooper (St. Louis, MO) Sept. 8, 1859 - Dec. 6, 1913, Washington U., first woman in law 1871, served briefly as US Marshall 1887, elegant and popular lecturer, helped found National Woman Suffrage As- sociation 1869, traveled and spoke with Susan B. Anthony, active in Missouri, grew ill and dis- appointed, renounced suffrage 1897 and lobbied for the Brewers Association, died in poverty.

Phoebe Wilson Couch (Omaha, NE) Nov. 2, 1866 - Aug. 8, 1948, heard Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton speak at age 12, joined National Woman Suffrage Association. U. of Neb., married, 1 child, divorced, worked in the post office and as an insurance under- writer, wrote series of articles for NY newspa- pers portraying conditions of working girls, worked in sweatshops to get firsthand data on women's trades, first editor of The Suffragist 1914, held press conferences and confronted President Wilson with awkward questions about suffrage, injured by a motorcycle 1919, traveled in Europe, wrote a biography of Susan B. Anthony.

Rheta Childe Dorr (Omaha, NE) Oct. 22, 1883 - Oct. 11, 1915, remembered her mother saying "the power of a woman's lot is so hard!" wrote journal of her family's 2,400-mile journey to Oregon in 1852, married farmer, 6 children, taught, kept shop, for 16 years Published The Northwest, a weekly newspaper dedicated to the cause of women's rights, managed Susan B. Anthony's Pacific Northwest visit 1871, lectured throughout Oregon, Washington and Idaho for suffrage and women's rights, wrote newspaper articles in Jacksonville, led the Oregon Equal Suffrage Association 1873, led several state drives for suffrage, opposed prohibition, helped win suffrage in Washington territory 1883 - and again in 1910 when the earlier legislation had been invalidated - and in Idaho 1896, honored as Oregon's first woman voter.

Crystal Eastman (Marlborough, MA) June 25, 1881 - July 8, 1928, Vassar, Colum- bia, NYU law degree, helped win worker's compensation law, married Wallace Benedict, divorced, married Walter Fuller, 2 children, managed for Wisconsin suffrage campaign 1912, researched industrial accidents, led movement for worker's compensation laws, helped found Congressional Union, dynamics leader of Woman's Peace Party NY branch, opposed "the wave of jingoism and prepared- ness" during World War I, helped organize Civil Liberty Bureau (successor to ACLU), edited anti-war journal Liberator, organized a NY Feminist Congress demanding equal- ity 1919, active in England, died at 47. "She was for thousands a symbol of what the free woman might be." (Nation, 1928)

Lavinia Margaret Engel (Montgomery County, MD) May 23, 1892 - May 29, 1979, young NAWSA state organizer and field worker, campaigned in 16 states especially in the South, active in New York in 1915, helped organize hospital in France staffed by women downed in WWI. A WNLW victory led Maryland LWV for 15 years, elected to Maryland House 1930, called a "practical idealist," supported legislation affecting women and children, appointed to Social Security Board 1936. served for 30 years.

Sara Bard Field (Cincinnati, Ohio) Sept. 1, 1882 - June 15, 1974, married Ehrhoff, 2 chil- dren, divorced, teenage son killed 1918, paid arguing that she was taxed without representation. Cady Stanton and Susan B. Anthony, the leader of state and national suffrage associations at National Woman's Rights Convention in 1850, spoke “trembling in every limb” about their taxes.

Abigail Kelley Foster (Felham, MA) Jan. 15, 1810 - Jan. 14, 1887, Quaker-born teacher, abolitionist and woman's rights pioneer, offered Abigail, sought to “improve mankind,” married abolitionist Stephen Foster. 1831, daughter, took the family name Foster after her husband’s death in 1850s, found the New England Non-Resistant Society, with William Lloyd Garrison, formed the American Women’s Suffrage Association, 1869, founded first Black women's Equal Suffrage Union, 1870, a founder and leader with Lucy Stone and her husband, a founder of the National Woman's Rights Convention in 1850s, “I have for the belief in woman's inferiority,” lifelong motto carved on gravestone: “There is a word sweeter than Mother, Home, or Heaven; that word is Liberty.”

Sarah Smith Tompkins Garnet (Brooklyn, NY) July 31, 1831 - Sept. 17, 1911, lifelong educator, supporter of suffrage and civil rights, first Black woman public school principal in New York City 1863, served 37 years, from prosperous farming family, lost two husbands and two children, owned seamstress shop, co-founded first Black women’s Equal Suffrage Club in Brooklyn, ran the Suffrage Department of the NACW, delegate to first Universal Races Congress in London (1911, PS 9 in Brooklyn re-named for her (2019).

Charlotte Anna Perkins Stetson Gilman (Hartford, CT) July 3, 1860 - Aug. 17, 1935, leading intellectual of women’s movement, poor childhood, married, 1 daughter, wrote The Yellow Wall-Paper after nervous breakdown, divorced, moved to California, wrote short stories, traveled and lectured on women’s labor and social issues, wrote Women and Economies 1898, an enormously influential “feminist manifesto.”s, accredited independent for women, married first cousin 1900, edited monthly progressive magazine The Forerunner 1909 - 1916, wrote utopian fantasy Herland, a founder of Woman’s Peace Party, laid away chloroform when she learned she had breast cancer to avoid being a burden or incapacitated, took it and died in Pasadena, CA.

Kate M. Gordon (New Orleans, LA) July 14 1861 - Aug. 24, 1932, with sister Jean founded the Era Club (Equal Rights Association) 1890, headed Women’s League for Sewage and Drainage 1899, led fight against tuberculosis, state and national suffrage leader, advocate of states’ rights to maintain segregation, edited the New Southern Citizen, worked with anti’s to defeat ratification of federal amendment.

Francis E.W. Harper

Francis Ellen Watkins Harper (Baltimore, MD) Sept. 24, 1825 - Feb. 22, 1911, orphaned at 3, married, widowed after 4 years, daughter led young, early poet and well-known Black author, spoke out for abolition and women’s rights, aided fugitive slaves, lectured for Maine Anti-Slavery Society, toured eastern states 1850s, after war lectured in South on temperance, Black morality, and against white racial violence, attended 1875 & 1887 suffrage conventions.

Ida Husted Harper (Fairfield, IA) Feb. 18, 1851 - March 14, 1931, Indian U. and Stanford, m. lawyer, 1 daughter, prodigious writer and journalist, head of press relations in California campaign of 1896, biographer and traveling companion of SBA, author or co-author of “The History of Woman Suffrage” Volumes 4-6, head of national publications under Carrie Catt for final federal amendment campaign, 1916-1919.

Louise Waldron Elder Havemeyer (New York, NY) July 28, 1835 - Jan. 6, 1929, wealthy childhood, married, 3 children, socially prominent artist collector, helped Alice Paul found Congressional Union and NWP, suffrage speaker, created popular symbols including “ Torch of Liberty” and electric “Ship of State” to wear in night parades 1915, tried to burn effigy of Woodrow Wilson 1916, arrested, traveled on “Prison Special” train across country, first American patron of Degas, advised by Mary Cassatt, donated great Impressionist art collection to the Met.

Mary Garrett Hay (Charleston, IN) Aug. 29, 1857 - Aug. 29, 1928, suffrage organizer and temperance reformer, traveled 13,000 miles to visit 20 states in 1890 with new organizer Carrie Catt, organized precincts in 1896, California campaign, became Carrie Catt’s lieutenant, raised money, directed NYC suffrage campaigns 1915 & 1917, lobbied for federal amendment, active in women’s clubs, League of Women Voters, and Republican party.

Southern postmasters, married abolitionist Theodore Weld, 3 children, led anti-slavery movements in NYC.

Sarah Moore Grimké (Charleston, SC) Nov. 26 1792 - Dec. 23, 1873, like her sister Angelina, a member of a leading Southern family, became influential lecturer, writer, outspoken advocate of abolition, and early champion of women’s rights, rebuked and silenced by Quaker meeting for views against slavery and women’s rights moved to NYC with sister, spoke widely and led anti-slavery movements in New England in the late 1830s, defended women’s right to speak when it was challenged.

Bertha Dillard Higgins (Danville, VA) Nov. 18, 1872 - Dec. 30, 1944, political activist, club woman, seamstress and clothing designer, studied in London and Paris, formidable organizer in Providence, RI for suffrage, anti-lynching legislation, social services and jobs for Black residents, m., widowed, 1 daughter, active with Women’s League for Sewage and Drainage 1898, co-founder of Women’s Suffrage Club, raised money for racially integrated Woman Suffrage Party of RI, founding member of the state League of Women Voters, lobbied for federal amendment including the Julia Ward Howe Republican Women’s Club (which, disillusioned, she changed to Democratic Club in 1932), fought prejudice and worked for Black civil rights during World War II, anti-poverty worker, member of the Urban League, daughter Prudence followed her into public service.

Jessie Annette Jack Hooper (Winnebago County, IL) Nov. 8, 1865 - May 30, 1935, established kindergarten visiting nurse program and tuberculosis sanatorium, married lawyer, 1 daughter, worked in 1912 Wisconsin and 1916 Iowa campaigns, lobbied, helped make Wisconsin first state to ratify, toured western states urging quick ratification, US Senate nominee in 1920, lost to Robert M. La Follette but carried Milwaukee, advocate for world disarmament, collections on handicapped women were shared by her husband, who from the time of their marriage had regularly, in alternate election years, voted for the candidates of her choice.” (Notable American Women)

Addie Waits Hunter (Norfolk, VA) June 11, 1875 - June 21, 1943, married, lost 2 of 4 children as infants, Atlanta and Brooklyn, NY. YMCA worker with Black troops in France during WWI, organizer with National Association of Colored Women, NAACP field secretary, challenged National Woman’s Party to support Black women, “No women are free until all women are free.”

Aghail Jemima Hutchinson (Milford, NH) Aug. 29, 1829 - Nov. 24, 1892, called Abby, singer, female teacher, taught music in traveled county with 3 brothers as widely popular singing troupe. The Hutchinson Family, shy, attractive, with rich and melodious voice, “the sweet canary of New Hampshire,” sang against slavery and for peace, helped Black women’s right to vote, married Ludlow Patton, lived in New Jersey, organized with Lucy Stone Vermont Woman Suffrage Association, sang at national women’s rights conventions in 1850s, “I have

Continued on Page 19
Women Win the Vote

13

Places to Go, Things to Do, Links to Enjoy

Resources for the Women’s Suffrage Centennial

This is just a sampling of what’s happening. Each of these websites offers a remarkable array of resources – news, ideas, opportunities, information and links to enhance your experience of the suffrage centennial. They are nearly all non-profit, so naturally would appreciate your financial support.

10 Top Centennial Sites to Visit
(Longer descriptions follow)

Women’s Vote Centennial Initiative (WVCI) – www.2020Centennial.org
National Votes for Women Trail – https://ncwhs.org/votes-for-women-trail/
National Women’s History Alliance – https://nationalwomenshistoryalliance.org/
American Journalism – www.SuffrageandtheMedia.org
Turning Point Suffragist Memorial – www.suffragistmemorial.org
Women and Social Movements – https://documents.alexanderstreet.com/VOTESforWOMEN

What’s Happening?

A NATIONAL CELEBRATION
Women’s Vote Centennial Initiative (WVCI) – national center, contacts, Toolkit, calendar events, news, webinars, broadcasts, www.2020Centennial.org
Suffrage Centennials – Marguerite Kearns, a suffragist descendent, edits these multimedia platforms and clearinghouses, www.suffragecentennials.com/ and www.SuffrageWagon.org
National Women’s History Alliance – source of downloadable suffrage centennial Gazettes with national and state resources, news, performers, store, resources and links, https://nationalwomenshistoryalliance.org/
Women’s Suffrage Centennial Commission, federally funded, newly established, https://www.womensvote100.org/
Vision 2020 – national project out of Drexel University with state representatives that also promotes women’s health, https://drexel.edu/vision2020/

NATIONAL GROUPS
Be sure to check with national organizations interested in women’s rights as well as others, especially those with local or regional chapters.
Groups bound to be involved include the League of Women Voters, American Association of University Women, National Council of Negro Women, American Bar Association and Feminist Majority Foundation.
There’s also the Business and Professional Women, National Association of Negro Business & Professional Women’s Clubs, American Association for State & Local History, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Girl Scouts, Ms. Foundation and many others.

Also check your state’s Commission on the Status of Women (if it has one), Women’s Hall of Fame, Women’s History Project, Women’s Heritage Trail and similar organizations.

MUSEUMS/EXHIBITS

Washington D.C.

National institutions have stepped up to recognize women’s history and commemorate the suffrage movement with exhibits and events as never before.

Beyond D.C.

Check the New-York Historical Society’s new Center for Women’s History, and the Schlesinger Library on the History of Women in America in Cambridge, MA. There are many shows and exhibits throughout the country including the Women’s Museum of California, Maine State Museum, and Texas State Library (check state listings)

Get Involved

NATIONAL PROJECTS

National Votes for Women Trail – Pomeroy Roadside Markers are helping to define a National Votes for Women Trail, a grassroots efforts with contacts in nearly every state to document historic sites and erect suffrage-related roadside signs and historic markers, https://nationalvotesforwomentrail.org

Other sites in Washington D.C. include the former suffrage headquarters, the Belmont-Paul Women’s Equality National Monument, which houses the National Woman’s Party collection, and the Museum of Women and the Arts. There are also historic homes including the Frederick Douglass National Historic Site and many others.

Workhouse Prison Museum at Lorton (VA) – Life-size figures and explanations recreate the image of suffragists such as Lucy Burns enduring the torturous process of force-feeding at the site of where they were imprisoned, https://workhousemuseums.org

Library of Congress exhibit.

Smithsonian’s National Museum of American History – “American Women’s History 100” will showcase examples of women’s art and artifacts, Exhibition: “Girlhood (It’s Complicated) opens June 2020, https://womenshistory.si.edu/email/

National Park Service, activities at many sites, online StoreMap, Places of Women’s Suffrage, and 19th Amendment article series, www.nps.gov/articles/series

STATE GROUPS

Check out the detailed states list that starts on page 3. Many states, including Massachusetts, Idaho and Utah, already have well developed centennial projects and websites that offer ideas, calendars of events, history, biographies, photographs, videos, resources, links and more. Some have produced note cards, pins and other products.

MUSEUMS/EXHIBITS

Washington D.C.

National institutions have stepped up to recognize women’s history and commemorate the suffrage movement with exhibits and events as never before.

Beyond D.C.

Check the New-York Historical Society’s new Center for Women’s History, and the Schlesinger Library on the History of Women in America in Cambridge, MA. There are many shows and exhibits throughout the country including the Women’s Museum of California, Maine State Museum, and Texas State Library (check state listings)

Get Involved

NATIONAL PROJECTS

National Votes for Women Trail – Pomeroy Roadside Markers are helping to define a National Votes for Women Trail, a grassroots efforts with contacts in nearly every state to document historic sites and erect suffrage-related roadside signs and historic markers, https://nationalvotesforwomentrail.org

Other sites in Washington D.C. include the former suffrage headquarters, the Belmont-Paul Women’s Equality National Monument, which houses the National Woman’s Party collection, and the Museum of Women and the Arts. There are also historic homes including the Frederick Douglass National Historic Site and many others.

Workhouse Prison Museum at Lorton (VA) – Life-size figures and explanations recreate the image of suffragists such as Lucy Burns enduring the torturous process of force-feeding at the site of where they were imprisoned, https://workhousemuseums.org

Library of Congress exhibit.

Smithsonian’s National Museum of American History – “American Women’s History 100” will showcase examples of women’s art and artifacts, Exhibition: “Girlhood (It’s Complicated) opens June 2020, https://womenshistory.si.edu/email/

National Park Service, activities at many sites, online StoreMap, Places of Women’s Suffrage, and 19th Amendment article series, www.nps.gov/articles/series

STATE GROUPS

Check out the detailed states list that starts on page 3. Many states, including Massachusetts, Idaho and Utah, already have well developed centennial projects and websites that offer ideas, calendars of events, history, biographies, photographs, videos, resources, links and more. Some have produced note cards, pins and other products.

To encourage or see what’s being planned at the state and local levels, consider connecting with:
- State Government including Governor, Secretary of State, legislators, State Library, Museum and Historical Society
- Local and county government agencies, libraries, museums, historical societies, town meetings
- Schools, colleges, universities, special collections
- Civic and church groups, businesses, non-profits, service and women’s clubs
- Local chapters (see national groups) and locally focused organizations.

Go Online

TOOLKITS FOR THE CENTENNIAL

WVCI Toolkit, Women’s Vote Centennial Initiative, www.2020centennial.org, or https://static1.squarespace.com/static/59f8bb8ef9a61e486d29387d/t/5be470f34ac2370de3f66da8/1541697792587/Women%E2%80%99sVote+Centennial+Initiative+Toolkit.pdf

The Schlesinger Library at Harvard University has created a number of research guides in support of women’s history, https://guides.library.harvard.edu/schlesinger_rg_home.

FACETSHEETS & TIMELINES

Scholastic Teacher’s Activity Guide – http://teacher.scholastic.com/activities/suffrage/

Several other sites, particularly state centennial sites, have more information and resources including factsheets, timelines, documents and curricula.

EXHIBITS & RESOURCES

Carrie Chapman Catt Collection of Suffrage Photographs – Unique Bryn Mawr website offers portraits of suffragists (especially state leaders and actions) and photographs from around the country, http://triplych.brynmawr.edu/cdm/landingpage/collection/suffragists.

National Archives Documents, www.DocsTeach.org

Smithsonian Learning Lab Collections – https://learninglab.si.edu/search?q=womens%2fsuffrage&item_type=collections&st=on_and

Google Books and Gutenberg – https://www.gutenberg.org/ebooks/ offers many suffrage books free online, especially key references like “The History of Woman Suffrage” in 6 volumes, “The Story of the Woman’s Party,” and others.

Google Arts and Culture presentation on Elizabeth Cady Stanton – https://artsandculture.google.com/entity/mt0wmp9

Feminism 101 – David Dismore’s inspiring site includes “This Day in Feminist History,” timelines on history and domestic issues, http://www.feminism101.com/

Discovering American Women’s History Online is an invaluable resource on suffrage and many other topics, includes links to many collections digital.mtsu.edu/cdm/search/collection/women/searchterm/suffrage/mode/all/order/rowsort/page/1.

Friends with Mary McLeod Bethune, right.

New Sources on Black Suffragists

There are an increasing number of projects and websites that recognize Black suffragists and other non-white women who were part of the suffrage movement yet were still barred from voting after 1920.

African American Suffragists – Short biographies of 35 leaders http://www.suffragistmemorial.org/african-american-women-leaders-in-the-suffrage-movement/

Black Past – African American and international history resources, timelines, Frederick Douglass on Suffrage, https://www.blackpast.org

The Black Woman Suffragists Collection – Part of the Women and Social Movements project, https://search.alexanderstreet.com/view/work/bibliographic_entity%3C%7C553004%5B%5D%7Cweb_collection%3C%7C553005%5B%5D%7Cblack_women_suffragists%5B%7D%7Cblack_women_suffragists%5B%7D%7C20%7Ccollection%28black_woman%29&edan_q=suffrage&op=Search&edan_fq%5B%5D=online_visual_material%3Atrue

Century of Action – several states like Oregon are researching African American women in their state campaigns (check the state centennial list), http://centuryofaction.org/index.php/main_site/document_project/oregans_colored_women_equal_suffrage_league_and_the_1912_campaign

The Sojourner Project – highlights suffragist Sojourner Truth (search for other individual women), http://www.thesojournertruthproject.com?gclid=C0KCIow

Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture – great resources, unique collections, https://www.nypl.org/locations/schomburg

See who ran in the past at Her Hat Was in the Ring, http://www.herhatwasinthering.org/

Existing memorials devoted to suffragists include Mary McLeod Bethune, Frederick Douglass, Esther Morris, Clara Barton, Jane Addams, Lucy Stone, Alice Stone Blackwell, Sojourner Truth, Amelia Bloomer and others. Utah has a campaign to send a statue of first state senator Dr. Martha Hughes Cannon to Statuary Hall, where it will join the Portrait Monument that memorializes three suffrage pioneers. Kansas is sending Amelia Earhart.

Be a Leader – Get Involved!

Ever consider entering public service? Even if you can’t see yourself running for office, consider helping another woman run. Either way, check groups like She Should Run, Young Women in Politics, Running Start Online, AACU, Ignite National, Girls Inc., and CAWP Rutgers. National organizations like the AAUW and League of Women Voters can also help. Rutgers University houses useful centers including:

- Center for African Women and Politics – excellent research and analysis, fact sheets, blog, “Ready to Run” Program, http://www.cawn.rutgers.edu/
- Institute for Women’s Leadership – resources, fact sheets, video interviews, http://iw1.rutgers.edu/
- Dept. of Women and Gender Studies – current concerns, newsletter, http://womens-studies.rutgers.edu/

See who ran in the past at Her Hat Was in the Ring, http://www.herhatwasinthering.org/

The Arts

ART & ARTIFACTS

HerFlag – Marilyn Artus’s national collaborative centennial project for artists creating an 18 x 26 foot flag with 36 stripes, one for each of the ratifying states, https://www.herflag.com/

Suffrage in Stitches – Katherine Durack’s site celebrates Women’s Fight for Political Voice through Crochet, including patterns for a “Failure is Impossible” afghan, Ratification muffler and more, www.suffrageinstitches.com/

National Portrait Gallery – a wonderful collection of portraits, paintings and sculptures of suffragists, many images available online and downloadable, npg.si.edu/portraits/search?edan_q=suffrage&edan_local=1&op=Search

The Smithsonian’s American History Museum – historic items from the women’s suffrage movement including printed material, a Woman Suffrage Wagon and Susan B. Anthony’s Gavel from 1888, http://americanhistory.si.edu/collections/search?custom_search_id=collectionsearch&edan_local=1&edan_q=suffrage&op=Search&edan_desc%5B%5D=online_visual_material%3Atrue
We Did It For You! -- Women's Journey Through History

We Did It For You! Women’s Journey Through History, musical on how women fought for their rights in America, www.wediditforyou.org

The Perfect 36: An American Musical, on Tennessee’s final vote currently on Kickstarter

Recipe for Justice: A Musical Readers Theatre Celebrating Washington Woman Suffrage Centennial, songs from the musical, limited to one production, are on the “Here’s to the Women!” CD by Linda Allen, www.lindasongs.com/suffrage

SINGER/SONGWRITERS

Gerri Gribi (CreativeFolk.com) – includes African American Toolkit and a Suffrage Sing Along Sheet with suffrage lyrics to popular tunes http://creativefolk.com/suffrage.html

Linda Allen – original songs by Linda Allen, including Inez, Failure is Impossible and Here’s to the Women, www.lindasongs.com/suffrage

Song Suffragettes, https://www.songsuffragettes.com/about-1

Mother Mends, Former Baltimore teacher and “History Songwriter” Joe DeFilippo’s suffrage song, https://soundcloud.com/search?q=joe%3C2D%20DeFilippo

Spirit of 1776: A New Suffragette Anthem, music video, Edna Kearns LINK

SUFFRAGE MUSIC

Old Songs, https://forwardintolight.oldsongs.org/

Singing for Suffrage performance

Recording Our Past includes a suffrage song and the voices of elderly suffragists http://ukebox.uaf.edu/suffragists/index.html (link on bottom of home page)

Hurrah for Woman Suffrage! 40 minutes of historical women’s songs by the Homespun Singers, https://shop.nationalwomenshistorical.org

Songs of the Suffragettes, Folkways Records,

Suffrage Songs and Verses by Charlotte Perkins Gilman,

https://digital.library.upenn.edu/women/gilman/suffrage/suffrage.html

Mary Poppins sings “Sister Suffragette.”

Sister Suffragette from Mary Poppins, 1964, https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FLKFJUHOX8

PLAYS

American Radical, Kate Redway’s biographical drama about Elizabeth Cady Stanton, http://www.rutlandherald.com/articles/american-radical/

Other creative local performances we’ve noted include Hear Our Voice A Woman’s Journey, a musical oratorio by Van Nuys High School students, on Sarah Bard Field’s cross country journey.

Victoria Woodhull: Shattering Glass Ceilings at Akron, Ohio’s Dunamis Theater.

Suffragist Anthems – Jeannie Guerrero, of the Eastman School of Music, performed at Seneca Falls in May, Hear Them Roar: The Fight for Women’s Rights by NYU students.

Lucy Stone Bicentennial events and concerts in 2018 West Brookfield, MA.

TV/VIDEO

Two exciting television productions are in the works:

Votes for Women, a PBS four-hour special (tentative title), and The Woman’s Hour: The Great Fight to Win the Vote, a Steven Spielberg & Hillary Clinton TV series based on Elaine Weiss’s book.

Citizens Project is a powerful online video series that came out of the British centennial, features a powerful 5-minute reenactment of suffragette Mary Richardson’s testimony on force feeding, https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HpA4tQD7Bfw, and a historic 4-minute reenactment of Emmeline Pankhurst’s 1913 suffrage speech in Hartford, CT, https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NL5s9dk9U4w

FILM

One Woman, One Vote Film Festival – planned for Washington D.C. in 2020, https://2020ovffest.org/about/

The Divine Order – set in Switzerland in 1971 where women were still denied the right to vote, trailer https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oUKEjCeJQmE

Women Were Still Denied the Right to Vote in California, trailer https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fLKFJUHQXi8

The Divine Order – set in Switzerland in 1971 where women were still denied the right to vote, trailer https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oUKEjCeJQmE

Mary Poppins sings “Sister Suffragette.”

Sister Suffragette from Mary Poppins, 1964, https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FLKFJUHOX8

PLAYS

American Radical, Kate Redway’s biographical drama about Elizabeth Cady Stanton, http://www.rutlandherald.com/articles/american-radical/

Other creative local performances we’ve noted include Hear Our Voice A Woman’s Journey, a musical oratorio by Van Nuys High School students, on Sarah Bard Field’s cross country journey.

Victoria Woodhull: Shattering Glass Ceilings at Akron, Ohio’s Dunamis Theater.

Suffragist Anthems – Jeannie Guerrero, of the Eastman School of Music, performed at Seneca Falls in May, Hear Them Roar: The Fight for Women’s Rights by NYU students.

Lucy Stone Bicentennial events and concerts in 2018 West Brookfield, MA.

TV/VIDEO

Two exciting television productions are in the works:

Votes for Women, a PBS four-hour special (tentative title), and The Woman’s Hour: The Great Fight to Win the Vote, a Steven Spielberg & Hillary Clinton TV series based on Elaine Weiss’s book.

Citizens Project is a powerful online video series that came out of the British centennial, features a powerful 5-minute reenactment of suffragette Mary Richardson’s testimony on force feeding, https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HpA4tQD7Bfw, and a historic 4-minute reenactment of Emmeline Pankhurst’s 1913 suffrage speech in Hartford, CT, https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NL5s9dk9U4w

FILM

One Woman, One Vote Film Festival – planned for Washington D.C. in 2020, https://2020ovffest.org/about/

The Divine Order – set in Switzerland in 1971 where women were still denied the right to vote, trailer https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oUKEjCeJQmE

Women Were Still Denied the Right to Vote in California, trailer https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fLKFJUHQXi8

The Divine Order – set in Switzerland in 1971 where women were still denied the right to vote, trailer https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oUKEjCeJQmE

Women Were Still Denied the Right to Vote in California, trailer https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fLKFJUHQXi8

Mary Poppins sings “Sister Suffragette.”

Sister Suffragette from Mary Poppins, 1964, https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FLKFJUHOX8

PLAYS

American Radical, Kate Redway’s biographical drama about Elizabeth Cady Stanton, http://www.rutlandherald.com/articles/american-radical/

Other creative local performances we’ve noted include Hear Our Voice A Woman’s Journey, a musical oratorio by Van Nuys High School students, on Sarah Bard Field’s cross country journey.

Victoria Woodhull: Shattering Glass Ceilings at Akron, Ohio’s Dunamis Theater.

Suffragist Anthems – Jeannie Guerrero, of the Eastman School of Music, performed at Seneca Falls in May, Hear Them Roar: The Fight for Women’s Rights by NYU students.

Lucy Stone Bicentennial events and concerts in 2018 West Brookfield, MA.

TV/VIDEO

Two exciting television productions are in the works:

Votes for Women, a PBS four-hour special (tentative title), and The Woman’s Hour: The Great Fight to Win the Vote, a Steven Spielberg & Hillary Clinton TV series based on Elaine Weiss’s book.

Citizens Project is a powerful online video series that came out of the British centennial, features a powerful 5-minute reenactment of suffragette Mary Richardson’s testimony on force feeding, https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HpA4tQD7Bfw, and a historic 4-minute reenactment of Emmeline Pankhurst’s 1913 suffrage speech in Hartford, CT, https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NL5s9dk9U4w

PERFORMERS

National Authors, Presenters & Performers are available to travel across the country. These performers are willing and able to travel to your state, if they don’t live there, to be a part of your program. To see the list of national and state authors and presenters on the NWHA website, visit http://www.nwhp.org/performers-speakers/national/. The NWHA does not screen performers or presenters; everyone is welcome. Performers can register in the NWHA Store, which is accessible from our website, www.nwhanews.org.

Many performers do school performances including special shows to honor both the Centennial and Susan B. Anthony’s 200th birthday.

“Suffragettes in the Silent Cinema,” and a book, The Loud Silents: Origins of the Social Problem Film. 56 state referendum campaigns; 480 legislative campaigns to get state suffrage amendments submitted; 47 state constitutional convention campaigns; 277 state party convention campaigns; 30 national party convention campaigns to get suffrage planks in the party platforms; 19 campaigns with 19 successive Congresses to get the federal amendment submitted, and the final ratification campaign.”

Carrie Chapman Catt

LEAVE A LEGACY

Gerda Lerner was a scholar, author and lecturer who spearheaded the creation of the first graduate program in women’s history in the U.S. Gerda Lerner left a legacy of continuing to support women’s history through her generous bequest to the National Women’s History Alliance. We invite you to leave a legacy with an ongoing monthly or one-time monetary gift to the NWHP. Or remember the NWHP in your will. Ask your employer about matching funds.

Lerner remembered the NWHA in her will, and we are forever grateful. Please donate today and support women’s history! NWHA PO Box 469 Santa Rosa, CA www.nwhanews.org

“Women’s history is women’s right-an essential, indispensable heritage from which we can draw pride, comfort, courage, and long range vision.” Gerda Lerner

Donate to this long anticipated project. See Elizabeth unveiled in 2020 in Johnstown where she was born and where her thoughts took root. Your check can be made payable to ECSWC & mailed to PO Box 251, Johnstown, NY 12095. The donation is tax deductible under section 170 of IRS Code. The Elizabeth Cady Stanton Women’s Consortium is a 501c3.

EXAMINING THE VISUAL CULTURE OF THE SUFFRAGE MOVEMENT

February 1 – June 7, 2020

Brandywine River Museum of Art
Chadds Ford, PA brandywine.org

We are featuring our limited edition 2020 hats collection to celebrate the 100 year Celebration of the Passage of the 19th Amendment to the United States Constitution.

Women Win the Vote!
Sylvia Guerrero
626.353.7347
sednainspired.com

10% of all proceeds will be donated to the Pasadena Celebrates 2020 Rose Parade Float.

Women Win the Vote

Continued from Page 12

seen but few men who are thoroughly just to women."

Adelaide Johnson (Plymouth, IL) Sept. 26, 1859 - Nov. 10, 1955, sculptor, feminist, born Sarah Adelaide, m. and husband took her name, sculptor, made influential argument with husband claiming 14th Amendment protected women's inherent right to vote in a democracy, filed unsuccessful test case 1872, SBA, Sojourner Truth, spoke widely, started suffrage auto tours, organized midwest suffrage conventions, elected Evanston Justice of the Peace.

Virginia Louisa Minor (Caroline County, VA) March 27, 1824 - Aug. 14, 1894, m. St. Louis, MO lawyer, 1 child, formed WSA of MO 1867, leader for 27 years, frequently, made influential argument with husband claiming 14th Amendment protected women's inherent right to vote in a democracy, filed unsuccessful test case 1872, SBA, Sojourner Truth, Virginia Woodhull and other women used interpretation to justify voting in early years.

Esther Hobart McQuigg Slack Morris (Tioga County, NY) Dec. 19, 1824 - May 23, 1905, read entire Bible every year until 23, married, 3 daughters, Civil War veteran with Chicago Sanitary Commission, publisher of the Chicago Advocate, merged with The Woman's Journal which she edited 1870-72, writer and teacher, became the Empress of Journalism, wrote "the Life of Carrie Catt nearly $1 million for "the furtherance of the cause of woman suffrage" 1914 which provided critical funding for the final New York campaign, national publications and final "Winning Plan."

Mary Ashton RiceLivermore (Boston, MA) Dec. 19, 1820 - May 23, 1905, read entire Bible every year until 23, married, 3 daughters, Civil War veteran with Chicago Sanitary Commission, organized over 300 aid societies in Midwest, organized Chicago Woman Suffrage Convention 1868, started newspaper The Agitator, merged with The Woman's Journal which she edited 1870-72, writer and teacher, lectured for 23 years, "The Queen of the Platform;", chief Women's Christian Temperance Union speaker, president of American Woman Suffrage Association 1875-78.

Belva Bennett McNall Lockwood (Royall, NY) Oct. 24, 1830 - May 19, 1917, forced to leave school at 15, married at 18, widowed at 23 with 1 daughter, Genesee College, taught, remarried 1868, child died in infancy, widowed after 9 years, law degree from National U. 1873, successfully lobbied Congress to allow women lawyers to practice before US Supreme Court, sponsored first Southern Black admitted to practice before Supreme Court, founded Washington DC's first suffrage group 1867, circulated petitions, drew up bills, addressed Congressional committees, ran for President 1888 and 1888 18th Amendment Party ticket, leader of Universal Peace Union, "moved US Congress to open highest court to women lawyers single-handedly."

Mary Eliza Mahoney (Roslyn MA) April 16, 1845 - Jan. 4, 1926, first Black woman to become a trained nurse 1879, worked in New England Hospital for Women and Children, strong supporter of suffrage, one of first women to register and vote in Boston.

Anne Henrietta Martin (Empire City, NY) Sept. 30, 1875 - April 15, 1951, (New York), U. of Nevada, Stanford, tennis champion and athlete, arrested in English suffrage demonstration, led campaign which won Nevada in 1914, National Woman's Party leader, first woman to run for Senate 1918 & 1920, encouraged women to seek direct political power and put women's issues first, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, Carmel, CA, "Equality for women is a passion with me."

Katharine Dexter McCormick (Dexter, MI) Aug. 27, 1875 - Dec. 28, 1967, philanthropist, promoted higher education for women, MIT, married, husband mentally ill, led outdoor rallies in Massachusetts 1909-09, NAWSA officer and supporter, smuggled diaphragms into US for Margaret Sanger's clinical research, helped develop and fund research for "the pill."

Catharine Guogar Waugh McCulloch (Bannsvoice, NV) June 4, 1862 - May 3, 1945, lawyer, Union College of Law, Chicago, met prejudice against women lawyers, married lawyer, 4 children, wrote key bill providing for woman suffrage in presidential elections, submitted for 20 years before passed in Illinois 1913, important strategic breakthrough, copied in other states, NAWSA adviser and officer, spoke widely, started suffrage auto tours, organized midwest suffrage conventions, elected Evanston Justice of the Peace.

Virginia Louisa Minor (Caroline County, VA) March 27, 1824 - Aug. 14, 1894, m. St. Louis, MO lawyer, 1 child, formed WSA of MO 1867, leader for 27 years, frequently, made influential argument with husband claiming 14th Amendment protected women's inherent right to vote in a democracy, filed unsuccessful test case 1872, SBA, Sojourner Truth, Virginia Woodhull and other women used interpretation to justify voting in early years.

Esther Hobart McQuigg Slack Morris (Tioga County, NY) Dec. 19, 1824 - May 23, 1905, read entire Bible every year until 23, married, 3 daughters, Civil War veteran with Chicago Sanitary Commission, organized over 300 aid societies in Midwest, organized Chicago Woman Suffrage Convention 1868, started newspaper The Agitator, merged with The Woman's Journal which she edited 1870-72, writer and teacher, lectured for 23 years, "The Queen of the Platform;", chief Women's Christian Temperance Union speaker, president of American Woman Suffrage Association 1875-78.

Belva Bennett McNall Lockwood (Royall, NY) Oct. 24, 1830 - May 19, 1917, forced to leave school at 15, married at 18, widowed at 23 with 1 daughter, Genesee College, taught, remarried 1868, child died in infancy, widowed after 9 years, law degree from National U. 1873, successfully lobbied Congress to allow women lawyers to practice before US Supreme Court, sponsored first Southern Black admitted to practice before Supreme Court, founded Washington DC's first suffrage group 1867, circulated petitions, drew up bills, addressed Congressional committees, ran for President 1888 and 1888 18th Amendment Party ticket, leader of Universal Peace Union, "moved US Congress to open highest court to women lawyers single-handedly."

Mary Eliza Mahoney (Roslyn MA) April 16, 1845 - Jan. 4, 1926, first Black woman to become a trained nurse 1879, worked in New England Hospital for Women and Children, strong supporter of suffrage, one of first women to register and vote in Boston.

Anne Henrietta Martin (Empire City, NY) Sept. 30, 1875 - April 15, 1951, (New York), U. of Nevada, Stanford, tennis champion and athlete, arrested in English suffrage demonstration, led campaign which won Nevada in 1914, National Woman's Party leader, first woman to run for Senate 1918 & 1920, encouraged women to seek direct political power and put women's issues first, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, Carmel, CA, "Equality for women is a passion with me."

Katharine Dexter McCormick (Dexter, MI) Aug. 27, 1875 - Dec. 28, 1967, philanthropist, promoted higher education for women, MIT, married, husband mentally ill, led outdoor rallies in Massachusetts 1909-09, NAWSA officer and supporter, smuggled diaphragms into US for Margaret Sanger's clinical research, helped develop and fund research for "the pill."

Catharine Guogar Waugh McCulloch (Bannsvoice, NV) June 4, 1862 - May 3, 1945, lawyer, Union College of Law, Chicago, met prejudice against women lawyers, married lawyer, 4 children, wrote key bill providing for woman suffrage in presidential elections, submitted for 20 years before passed in Illinois 1913, important strategic breakthrough, copied in other states, NAWSA adviser and officer, spoke widely, started suffrage auto tours, organized midwest suffrage conventions, elected Evanston Justice of the Peace.

Virginia Louisa Minor (Caroline County, VA) March 27, 1824 - Aug. 14, 1894, m. St. Louis, MO lawyer, 1 child, formed WSA of MO 1867, leader for 27 years, frequently, made influential argument with husband claiming 14th Amendment protected women's inherent right to vote in a democracy, filed unsuccessful test case 1872, SBA, Sojourner Truth, Virginia Woodhull and other women used interpretation to justify voting in early years.

Esther Hobart McQuigg Slack Morris (Tioga County, NY) Dec. 19, 1824 - May 23, 1905, read entire Bible every year until 23, married, 3 daughters, Civil War veteran with Chicago Sanitary Commission, organized over 300 aid societies in Midwest, organized Chicago Woman Suffrage Convention 1868, started newspaper The Agitator, merged with The Woman's Journal which she edited 1870-72, writer and teacher, lectured for 23 years, "The Queen of the Platform;", chief Women's Christian Temperance Union speaker, president of American Woman Suffrage Association 1875-78.

Belva Bennett McNall Lockwood (Royall, NY) Oct. 24, 1830 - May 19, 1917, forced to leave school at 15, married at 18, widowed at 23 with 1 daughter, Genesee College, taught, remarried 1868, child died in infancy, widowed after 9 years, law degree from National U. 1873, successfully lobbied Congress to allow women lawyers to practice before US Supreme Court, sponsored first Southern Black admitted to practice before Supreme Court, founded Washington DC's first suffrage group 1867, circulated petitions, drew up bills, addressed Congressional committees, ran for President 1888 and 1888 18th Amendment Party ticket, leader of Universal Peace Union, "moved US Congress to open highest court to women lawyers single-handedly."

Mary Eliza Mahoney (Roslyn MA) April 16, 1845 - Jan. 4, 1926, first Black woman to become a trained nurse 1879, worked in New England Hospital for Women and Children, strong supporter of suffrage, one of first women to register and vote in Boston.

Harriet “Hattie” Crawford Redmond (St. Louis, MO) 1862 - June 27, 1952, Oregon suffrage leader, proud daughter of emancipated slaves, settled in Portland, m., stood up and spoke out, held suffrage meetings in Mt. Olivet Baptist Church (1912), president of the Colored Women’s Equal Suffrage Association, served on the State Central Campaign Committee, immediately registered after 1912 victory, co-organize a Colored Women’s Republican Club, widowed at 45, labored as noted Black American suffragist during the economic life, rediscovered and honored as a civil rights leader, educated girls and improved their opportunities for victory, co-organize a Colored Women’s Reconstruction Association, served on the State Central Campaign Committee, held suffrage meetings in Mt. Redmond and spoke out, held suffrage meetings in Mt. Olivet Baptist Church (1912), president of the Colored Women’s Suffrage Association, served on the State Central Campaign Committee, immediately registered after 1912 victory, co-organized a Colored Women’s Republican Club, women’s clubs, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and the American Civil Liberties Union.

Rose Schneiderman (Newcastle-on-Tyne, England) Feb. 14, 1847 - July 2, 1919, sailed to New York on the Queen Montrose in 1868, began her career as a teacher, in 1871, she became the first woman to vote in the US. She was a leader in the campaign for women’s rights, and was a strong supporter of the labor movement. She was a member of the American Woman Suffrage Association, and was a strong supporter of the labor movement.

Ernestine Louise Potowski Rose (Russian Poland) Jan. 13, 1810 - Aug. 4, 1892, rabbi’s daughter, secured own inheritance at 16, moved to England then New York, founded the Association of All Classes of All Nations with Robert Owen 1835, married, supported women’s property bill 1840, called for political, legal, and social equality with man at 1850 national convention, popular lecturer for over 20 years, friend of Susan B. Anthony who called her a pioneer of the suffrage movement along with Mary Woolstencroft and Frances Wright, died in England.

Tye Leung Schulze

Celebrating California’s role in securing the vote for women!

Riverside Woman’s Club

is proud of its 123 year history of working toward self-improvement and empowerment of women.

http://www.riversidewomanclub.com

Independence

Entertain & Educate: book this riveting play about the Only Woman to receive our country’s highest honor, The Congressional Medal of Honor—because she persisted!

http://independencedorothywalker.com/

mwalkerindependence@gmail.com

The Long Road to Victory

The Battle for Women’s Right to Vote

The 72-year struggle told in a 1-hour performance

You’ll meet

LUCRETA MOTT, ELIZABETH Cady Stanton, SUSAN B. ANTHONY, ALICE PAUL & CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT

CREATED & PERFORMED BY ANNETTE BALDWIN

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

http://independencedoorywalker.com/

mwalkerindependence@gmail.com

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

Historical Interpreter

Performances by Dr. Daisy Nelson 215.965.279.0856

dcentury@aol.com ~ www.daisy-nelson.com

"SPECIAL KWANZA PRESENTATION"

SOJOURNER TRUTH

THULISI WHEATLY HUBBS

MADAME C.J. WALKER

PHILLY REED

MARY FIELDS

"SPECIAL KWANZA PRESENTATION"

SOJOURNER TRUTH

THULISI WHEATLY HUBBS

MADAME C.J. WALKER

PHILLY REED

MARY FIELDS

http://independencedorothywalker.com/

mwalkerindependence@gmail.com

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

The 72-year struggle told in a 1-hour performance

You’ll meet

LUCRETA MOTT, ELIZABETH Cady Stanton, SUSAN B. ANTHONY, ALICE PAUL & CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT

CREATED & PERFORMED BY ANNETTE BALDWIN

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

Entertain & Educate: book this riveting play about the Only Woman to receive our country’s highest honor, The Congressional Medal of Honor—because she persisted!

http://independencedorothywalker.com/

mwalkerindependence@gmail.com

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

The Long Road to Victory

The Battle for Women’s Right to Vote

The 72-year struggle told in a 1-hour performance

You’ll meet

LUCRETA MOTT, ELIZABETH Cady Stanton, SUSAN B. ANTHONY, ALICE PAUL & CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT

CREATED & PERFORMED BY ANNETTE BALDWIN

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

Entertain & Educate: book this riveting play about the Only Woman to receive our country’s highest honor, The Congressional Medal of Honor—because she persisted!

http://independencedorothywalker.com/

mwalkerindependence@gmail.com

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

The Long Road to Victory

The Battle for Women’s Right to Vote

The 72-year struggle told in a 1-hour performance

You’ll meet

LUCRETA MOTT, ELIZABETH Cady Stanton, SUSAN B. ANTHONY, ALICE PAUL & CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT

CREATED & PERFORMED BY ANNETTE BALDWIN

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

Entertain & Educate: book this riveting play about the Only Woman to receive our country’s highest honor, The Congressional Medal of Honor—because she persisted!

http://independencedorothywalker.com/

mwalkerindependence@gmail.com

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

The Long Road to Victory

The Battle for Women’s Right to Vote

The 72-year struggle told in a 1-hour performance

You’ll meet

LUCRETA MOTT, ELIZABETH Cady Stanton, SUSAN B. ANTHONY, ALICE PAUL & CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT

CREATED & PERFORMED BY ANNETTE BALDWIN

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

Entertain & Educate: book this riveting play about the Only Woman to receive our country’s highest honor, The Congressional Medal of Honor—because she persisted!

http://independencedorothywalker.com/

mwalkerindependence@gmail.com

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

Entertain & Educate: book this riveting play about the Only Woman to receive our country’s highest honor, The Congressional Medal of Honor—because she persisted!

http://independencedorothywalker.com/

mwalkerindependence@gmail.com

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

Entertain & Educate: book this riveting play about the Only Woman to receive our country’s highest honor, The Congressional Medal of Honor—because she persisted!

http://independencedorothywalker.com/

mwalkerindependence@gmail.com

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

Entertain & Educate: book this riveting play about the Only Woman to receive our country’s highest honor, The Congressional Medal of Honor—because she persisted!

http://independencedorothywalker.com/

mwalkerindependence@gmail.com

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

Entertain & Educate: book this riveting play about the Only Woman to receive our country’s highest honor, The Congressional Medal of Honor—because she persisted!

http://independencedorothywalker.com/

mwalkerindependence@gmail.com

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

Entertain & Educate: book this riveting play about the Only Woman to receive our country’s highest honor, The Congressional Medal of Honor—because she persisted!

http://independencedorothywalker.com/

mwalkerindependence@gmail.com

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

Entertain & Educate: book this riveting play about the Only Woman to receive our country’s highest honor, The Congressional Medal of Honor—because she persisted!

http://independencedorothywalker.com/

mwalkerindependence@gmail.com

Contact

amb@staginghistory.com

Entertain & Educate: book this riveting play about the Only Woman to receive our country’s highest honor, The Congressional Medal of Hon...
Lucy Stone (West Brookfield, MA) Aug. 13, 1818 - Oct. 18, 1893, first Massachusetts woman to earn a college degree, taught and did housework while at Oberlin, William Lloyd Garrison wrote, “She is a very superior young woman, and has a soul as free as the air,” married Henry Blackwell, became known for keeping own name to protest restrictive marriage laws, 2 children, son died after birth, spoke for abolition and women’s rights, organized own lectures, eloquent and sincere, led in calling the first national woman’s rights convention at Worcester, Massachusetts 1850, converted Susan B. Anthony and Julia Ward Howe to suffrage, refused to pay taxes to protest lack of representation, pressed for both Black and woman suffrage, founder of American Woman Suffrage Association 1869 and leading spirit in New England, published and edited influential weekly The Woman’s Journal with husband and later daughter for 47 years, first person to be cremated in New England, painted, made corsets, lively with quick wit, mentioned Minnesota newspapers, served as nurse during Civil War, lectured and wrote articles on women’s rights, toured Illinois for suffrage 1872.

Mary Burnett Talbert (Oberlin, Ohio) Sept. 18, 1866 - Oct. 15, 1923, orator, club leader, reformer and African American woman in Oberlin class (1886), m., 1 daughter, teacher and high school principal, civil leader in Buffalo, “graceful and gracious,” hosted first meeting of Niagara Movement, elected president of National Association of Colored Women and officer in the NAACP, lectured widely on importance of women’s rights and race relations, led anti-lynching efforts, enlisted white support for “A Million Women United to Stop Lynching,” became one of the most well known Black women of her time, helped develop Black female organizations and leaders and set the stage for the later civil rights movement.

Mary Eliza Church Terrell (Memphis, TN) Sept. 23, 1853 - July 24, 1954, called Mal- lie, mother a former slave, father first Black millionaire in the South, Oberlin, athletic, married, lost 3 children, blamed segregated hospitals, 2 more children, Washington DC community leader, social reformer, lecturer, spoke French, German and Italian, head of National Association of Colored Women, picketed White House with National Woman’s Party.

Eliza Lovell Tibbetts (Cincinnati, Ohio) August 5, 1823 - July 14, 1899, abolitionist, horticulturist, spiritualist, progressive activist in Washington D.C. for freedmen’s rights and universal suffrage, m., founded utopian community (1867), tried to vote with 70 women but rejected (1871), early settler of Riverside, California, acquired grafted buds from promising species of oranges from Brazil, developed phenomenally successful California naval orange industry from two original trees (1875), later recovered from bankruptcy, memorialized in Riverside by bronze statue by Guy Angelo Wilson (2011) depicting a slim young woman with arms raised in hope in tribute to Tibbetts, who actually resembled Queen Victoria.

Augusta Lewis Troup (New York, NY) c. 1848 - Sept. 14, 1920, orphaned in infancy, called “Gussie” Lewis, adopted by broker Isaac Gager, Manhattanville, became reporter and typesetter, labor organizer and journalist, joined Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cody Stanton in forming the New York Working Women’s Association in The Revolution’s offices 1868, felt demand for suffrage should not get in the way of women organizing for equal working rights, organized and led the Women’s Typographical Union No. 1 1868-1878, married New Haven Union publisher 1874, 7 children, community leader, called “the Little Mother of the Italian Colony.”

Sojourner Truth (Rifton, NY) c. 1797 - Nov. 26, 1883, born a slave named Isabella, bore at least 5 children, 2 girls sold from her, won son back from Alabama slaveholder, worked as a cook, maid and laundress in New York City, illiterate, preached against prostitution 1830, a mystic, chose name 1843, preached throughout Long Island and Connecticut, encouraged brotherly love, crowds disrupted her abolitionist meetings, spoke at women’s rights meetings in 1850s, remembered for dramatic “Ain’t I a Woman?” speech, Harriet Beecher Stowe called her “The Libyan Sibyl,” settled in Battle Creek, Michigan, solicited food and clothing for Black volunteers during Civil War, wrote Narrative 1850, sold it and her photos to raise money. Harriet Stanton Blatch recalled how as a 10-year-old, she once read the morning papers to visiting Sojourner Truth as she smoked her pipe. Young Blatch asked, “Sojourner, can’t you read?” to which she answered, “Oh no, honey, I can’t read little things like letters. I read big things like men.”

Harriet Tubman (Dorchester County, MD) 1820 - March 10, 1913, legendary abolitionist and deeply religious reformer, Union spy and scout, nurse, born a slave, skull fractured at 13, “not a satisfactory servant,” m., escaped to Philadelphia, helped sister, several brothers, their families and eventually her parents and others escape enslavement, worked with Underground Railroad network, subject of a $40,000 bounty, praised by Frederick Douglass and others for her shrewdness and courage, cared for parents and elderly in Auburn, NY, supported freedman schools in the South, toured east coast cities speaking in favor of suffrage, attended women’s rights conventions and the founding of the National Association of Colored Women, when asked about women’s suffrage replied, “I’ve suffered enough to believe it.”
Harriet Taylor Upton (Ravenna, OH) Dec. 17, 1853 - Nov. 2, 1945, Women's Christian Temperance Union local secretary, converted to suffrage while researching anti-suffrage article, National American Woman Suffrage Association treasurer, managed group from Warren, Ohio headquarters, editor of The Progress 1902-1910, skilled press agent and fundraiser, married Washington DC lawyer, traveled, testified, organized, directed two Ohio campaigns 1912 and 1914, wrote articles emphasizing role played by women in development of nation, appointed vice-chair of Republican National Executive Committee 1920, helped win government appointments for women, called "fat and jolly and motherly," good humored and easy going, sat beside Carrie Catt in 1920 NYC victory parade.

Lila Hardaway Meade Valentine (Richmond, VA) Feb. 4, 1865 - July 14, 1921, educational reformer, married, helped introduce kindergartens and vocational training into Richmond schools, led anti-tuberculosis campaign, never fully recovered from stillborn child 1888, chosen head of Equal Suffrage League of Virginia for her "quisite courage and intelligence" 1909, made over 100 speeches throughout Virginia in 1913, lectured in eastern states, supported federal amendment and worked unsuccessfully for Virginia's ratification.

Fanny Garrison Villard (Boston, MA) Dec. 16, 1844 - July 5, 1928, only daughter of abolitionist William Lloyd Garrison and Helen Villard, taught piano, married owner of The Nation and New York Evening Post, 4 children, NYC philanthropist, adviser and fundraiser for interacial and humanitarian causes, joined suffrage movement 1906, chaired New York legislative committees, spoke on street corners at 66, felt fundamental changes needed and that women could redeem politics, uncompromising pacifist, led 1914 Peace Parade down 5th Ave. and helped organize the Woman's Peace Party.

Ida Bell Wells-Barnett (Holy Springs, MS) July 16, 1862 - March 25, 1931, slave parents, lost parent and 3 siblings to yellow fever at 14, Rust U. and Fisk U., became teacher, refused to give up her seat for the colored section and sued railroad 1880s, wrote articles, pen name "Iola," led national campaign against lynching, her Memphis newspaper office was mobbed and destroyed 1892, lectured and organized clubs, protested exclusion of Blacks from World's Columbian Exposition 1894, married lawyer, 4 children, founded Alpha Suffrage Club of Chicago with Black suffragists, marched in Washington DC 1913 and Chicago 1916 suffrage parades, Chicago probation officer 1913-1916, ally of W.E.B. DuBois, felt NAACP not outspoken enough.

Maud Younger (San Francisco, CA) Jan. 10, 1870 - June 25, 1936, inherited fortune but lived in NYC College Settlement for 5 years, took job as waitress to understand lives of working women, helped form and lead a union, called "the millionaire waitress," lobbied and organized, helped win 8-hour-day labor law for California women, spoke all over California in 1911 campaign, drove a team of six horses pulling a suffrage float down San Francisco's Market Street in Labor Day Parade, organized Wage Earners Equal Suffrage League, became Alice Paul's lieutenant and chief lobbyist, headed National Woman's Party Congressional Committee which emphasized local pressure on Congressmen rather than verbal relations, compelling speaker, toured country defending suffrage hunger strikers, helped initiate and fought for Equal Rights Amendment.

Zitkala-Sa

Zitkala-Sa (Red Bird/Gertrude Simmons Bonnin) (Tantok Indian Reservation, SD) Feb. 22, 1876 - Jan. 26, 1938, writer, teacher, political activist, taken to white school as a child, given new name, learned to read, write and play violin but conflicted over losing her heritage, spoke out for women's rights at 19, scholar- ship to Earlham College, taught music, m., 1 son, wrote about Native American life, culture and loss of identity, decrived poverty and disruption on reservations, fought against racist stereotypes, opposed assimilation, sought to bridge white and Native American life, worked for improvements in education and health care and preservation of culture, pressured for federal Indian Citizenship Act (1924) that granted citizenship rights with no guarantee of vote (left up to states), felt that Indigenous people should be citizens and should have the vote, led the National Council of American Indians (1926) for 12 years to unite tribes to gain suffrage for all.

Sue White

Sue Shelton White (Henderson, TN) May 25, 1887 - May 6, 1943, teacher, court reporter, set up local suffrage groups, bridge between militants and mainstream suffrage groups in South, editor of The Suffragist 1919, impris- oned for burning effigy of President Wilson, toured country on Pension Special train, law degree 1923, active in New Deal, helped lay foundation of Social Security program.

Frances Elizabeth Caroline Willard (New York, NY) Sept. 28, 1839 - Feb. 17, 1898, frontier childhood, called Frank, taught school, president of Evanston College for Ladies, Illinois temperance leader, presented "Home Protection" petition of over 100,000 women to legislature 1879, served for 20 years organizing its members into strong women's move- ment sympathetic to suffrage, member of American Woman Suffrage Association and a leader in the International Council of Women 1888.

Victoria Claflin Woodhull (Homer, OH) Sept. 23, 1838 - June 10, 1927, part of a traveling medicine show when young, married at 15, 2 children, financial speculator with her sister Tennessee Claflin, broker, declared herself candidate for President of the US 1870, first woman to address Congressional committee urging woman suffrage 1871, competed with SBA for suffrage leadership 1872, called "The Terrible Siren" and "Mrs. Satan" for advocating free love, published Woodhull and Claflin's Weekly which first published Communist Manifesto in America, exposed Beecher-Tilton affair and triggered reaction, jailed for obscen- ity, acquitted, married wealthy British banker and died in England.

Fanny Bullock Workman (Worcester, MA) Jan. 8, 1859 - Jan. 22, 1925, mountain climber, spoke 4 languages, married, 1 daughter, often bicycled 50 miles a day, hiked through Ceylon, Algeria, and India 1890s, carried a "Votes for Women" banner into the Himalayas where she was an explorer, traded expedition duties with her husband each year.

Martha Coffin Pelham Wright (Boston, MA) Dec. 25, 1806 - Jan. 4, 1875, Quaker-born sister Lucretia Mott, married army captain, 1 daughter, widowed after 2 years, taught, married lawyer, 6 children, daughters Eliza and Ellen became suffragists, helped plan Seneca Falls meeting 1848, widely respected, noted for "inclusive wit, shrewd practicality, impatience with unnecessary flamboyance, and commitment to results," elected president of women's rights conventions in Cincin- nati, Saratoga and Albany 1855, consulted by Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, helped found Equal Rights Association 1866 and National Woman Suffrage Association, saw strategy as working for marriage and property rights at state level, then suffrage legislation at national level, "Her home was my home" (SBA).

The Man Behind the Women . . .

Male suffragists make particularly interesting and admirable role models today, including farsighted men like:

- James Mott, Quaker businessman who accompanied his wife Lucretia to Seneca Falls and chaired the first woman's rights meeting.
- Parker Pillsbury, anti-slavery editor who worked on The Revolution with Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton.
- Robert Purvis and Frederick Douglass, prominent Black anti-slavery leaders who were lifelong suffrage allies.
- Stephen Foster, William Lloyd Garrison, Wendell Phillips and other white abolitionists who were early supporters of women's rights.
- Henry Blackwell, a constant agitator for women's rights, who helped publish The Woman's Journal with his wife Lucy Stone and daughter Alice Stone Blackwell for years.
- George Catt, an engineer whose support and understanding of his wife Carrie Chapman Catt freed her to devote her time to leading the national suffrage drive.
What's Happening in Your State, continued from page 5

19 Woman’s Suffrage and the Revolutionary Transformation of America, an exhibit at the University of Nevada, Reno campus, will run through 2020. The useful state centennial site from 2014 is https://suffrage100nv.org/

New Jersey

New Jersey Women Vote: The 19th Amendment at 100, www.discovernewjersey.org/njwomensvote2020/ and @NJWomenVote100, is a multi-faceted programming initiative marking the centennial. The Alice Paul Institute, NJ Historical Commission and 65 partners aim to mark the centennial while acknowledging the challenges women of all backgrounds have faced from before 1920 to the present day. Teachers’ workshops, voter registration, a speakers’ bureau, and voting activity for K-12 students are planned, leading up to the anniversary of New Jersey’s ratification of the 19th Amendment in February 2020.

New York

The Elizabeth Cady Stanton Women’s Consortium, https://www.cswa.org/, plans to unveil a statue of Elizabeth Cady Stanton in 2020 and host a symposium on March 28 with Kristen Visbal, of Fearless Girl Fame, as keynote speaker.

North Dakota

North Dakota Women’s Suffrage Centennial Committee, https://www.suffrage-commission.org/about/suffrage, Oklahoma Historical Society exhibits and events.

Humanities New York, https://humanitiesny.org/nv4suffrage/, produced five 2-minute educational videos, a centennial craft guide for making buttons, pins and pennants, and more.

Oklahoma

OK Women 100, https://www.okhistory.org/about/suffrage, Oklahoma Historical Society exhibits and events.

Exhibits include The Yellow Brick Road to Women’s Suffrage at the Oklahoma Territorial Museum in Guthrie, and Votes for Women at the Oklahoma History Center in Oklahoma City (through Sept. 2019), also traveling exhibits.

Oregon

Oregon Women’s History Consortium, http://www.oregonwomenshistory.org/oregon-2020/, has resources and news. Members and volunteers are contributing sites to the Votes for Women Trail, documenting women’s historic sites in Oregon, and creating exhibits and events.

The state’s own centennial site from 2012, http://centuryofaction.org/, is full of information and lists of events and ideas – like The Sash Project. They rediscovered quality for women can look like in the next 100 years. Members of the API Girls Leadership Council will present their own Declaration for advancing the position of girls around the world.

A celebration at Paulsdale June 20 will include historical re-enactors, music, and exhibits on the suffrage movement.

Descendants of NJ suffragists will be recognized. API is also working on several digitization projects. https://www.alicepaul.org/

Activists in Cashiers are creating a year-long series of events including suffrage themed movies, documentaries and presentations at the library, school essay and poster contests, and youth interactive and educational activities. There will be a June 2020 symposium at the Historical Society, a July luncheon with fashion historian Cornelia Powell, historical exhibits, performing arts activities and summer programs.

The major commemoration on Aug. 22, 2020, will feature music, guest speakers, theatre, a reception and a Suffrage Stroll with guests wearing “Votes for Women” sashes on the Village Green. Susan Bianchi susanbianchi@aol.com

North Carolina

The Republican National Convention will be meeting in Charlotte on Aug. 26, 2020. Plans are in the works for a Women’s Equality Day breakfast followed by a march and rally to emphasize women’s unyielding commitment to justice and equality. Everyone’s invited. Contact Mrs. Lucille Puckett at Lucille.Puckett@yahoo.com.

On July 6, the Cincinnati Reds celebrated the 100th anniversary of Ohio women’s right to vote with special events before and during the game.

North Dakota Women’s Suffrage Centennial Committee, https://www.womensvote100.org/northdakota.

Plans include displaying pop-up versions of the National Archives exhibit Rightfully Hers at schools, libraries, museums and over a dozen venues across the state Aug.-Sept. 2019. Also exhibits, speakers, conferences, trail sites and a newspaper supplement on suffrage.

Ohio

Black suffragist Hattie Redmond and now a state university building has been renamed for her.

Pennsylvania

2020 Celebration events organized by the League of Women Voters in Erie, http://www.lwverie.org/100h-anniversary-calendar.html, started in August and include Public Painting Days for the Mural “Her Voice, Her Vote,” a Bike Erie Slow Roll in period attire, exhibit of a Votes for Women quilt, “Remarkable Women in the Suffrage Movement” lecture series, a “Women’s Suffrage in Erie County” exhibit at the Curtez Mansion, displays, art showings, movies and more. Check calendar.

Business and Professional Women of Pennsylvania has a 2020 Women’s Right to Vote Committee that is planning an excursion to the Alice Paul House in New Jersey on Sept. 7, 2019. A visit to the Women’s Justice Bell in Valley Forge Park is also being planned. Check The Key newsletter at https://bpwpa.wildapricot.org/.

“Finding Justice: The Untold Story of Women’s Fight for the Vote” is a film about the Women’s Justice Bell being made by Amanda Owen and Martha Wheelock. The film about one of few genuine suffrage artifacts will be released in March 2020. The Justice Bell Foundation in Philadelphia is planning school programs and also planning a replica Justice Bell that will go on tour. Events and screenings are being scheduled, https://www.justicebell.org.

The original bell, at Valley Forge, is to be driven to Philadelphia for the Equality Day 2020 Festivites organized by Vision 2020, https://drexel.edu/vision2020/programs/women-100/.

Since 2010, Lynn Watters has been writing about women’s history every March for the local Norristown, PA, Times Herald. She also donates Women’s History books to local grade schools. womenrgr8@gmail.com

South Dakota

Women in Clarksville-Montgomery County are planning their annual Spring Tea and a “Hello Yellow” project that encourages planting yellow flowers and marking graves of suffragists throughout the county. A public monument, “Tennessee Triumph,” is planned with a single woman voting to represent all of those who persisted year after year in small towns across the country. A cookbook with local history and vintage and contemporary recipes is a fundraiser, http://artsandheritage.us/public-monument-planned-to-celebrate-tennessees-role-in-ratification-of-19th-amendment.

Women in Roane County are planning a Suffrage Tea and a ceremony to mark graves of suffragists in the County.

Tennessee Woman Suffrage Centennial Collaborative, Middle Tennessee State University, includes historical information and a teacher’s resource. http://mtsuhispres.org.

Tennessee

Tennessee Woman Suffrage Monument, Inc., is a volunteer statewide group dedicated to memorializing the work done by state suffragists to secure ratification of the 19th Amendment by placing a woman suffragist monument in Nashville’s Centennial Park, http://www.tnsuffragemonument.org.

The Suffrage Coalition is preserving the history of the suffrage movement by placing two monuments in Knoxville: the Febb and Harry Burn Monument and the Suffrage Memorial, honoring three TN suffragists, http://suffragecoalition.org.

Public art across the state now includes a bas relief sculpture inside the State Capitol, the Woman Memorial and Febb and Harry Burn Monument in Knoxville, the TN Woman Suffrage Monument in Nashville (all by sculptor Alan LeQuire), Wanda Stanfill’s sculpture of Sue Shelton White in Jackson, and more public art planned in Memphis, Clarksville, and Chattanooga. http://tnwomansuffrageheritagetrail.com.

ChickHistory has launched “March to the 19th” as a grassroots campaign for women’s history in Tennessee. Their recently completed study, “Protecting the Legacy: African American Women in Tennessee before 1930,” is available at chickhistory.org.

The Tennessee Department of State, State Library & Archives has great suffrage resources. Search “suffrage” at https://www.sos.tn.gov/.

Texas

Information on Black Texas suffragists: https://www.womenintexashistory.org/audio/african-american-womens-suffrage/.

Utah

Better Days 2020, www.betterdays2020.com, is dedicated to popularizing Utah women’s history in creative and communal ways, including a suffrage centennial license plate, women’s history trading cards, downloadable coloring pages, posters and lots more. A separate educational site, www.utahwomenshistory.com, offers curriculum (especially for grades 4 and 7), teaching resources, downloads, ideas and a wealth of information.

Vermont

Virginia

A Formal Dedication of the Virginia Women’s Monument Committee – “Voices from the Garden,” is scheduled for October 14, 2019. Located in a new Capitol Square plaza in Richmond, the monument includes 12 separate life size bronze statues and a wall etched with 400 names of historic Virginia women. http://womensmonumentvirginia.gov/.

The dedication of the Turning Point Suffragist Memorial in Lorton is scheduled for August 2020.

A display at the Workhouse Prison Museum in Lorton includes life-size figures that recreate the image of suffragists such as Lucy Burns enduring the torturous process of force-feeding. Suffragists were imprisoned in Lorton, https://workhousemuseums.org. The Workhouse Arts Center is nearby.

A group of women in rural Virginia is making plans and has already tracked down the grave of the first woman to ever vote in their county. joycerouse@mac.com. Women in Grayson County have also been meeting to develop a plan for their rural community. The group includes the county tourism director, retired history buffs and activists. Check the county website,

Washington

Washington State Historical Society, https://www.suffrage100wa.com/, is “Celebrating 100 Years of Women Change Makers,” http://www.washingtonhistory.org/research/suffrage100wa/. Also offers an Introduction to Black History in the state.

West Virginia

West Virginia and the Ratification of the 19th Amendment, West Virginia Wesleyan College in Buckhannon will host a program whose title comes from an anti-suffragist, “For Those Poor West Virginia Women Working Persistently for Suffrage, Father Forgive Them, for They Know Not What They Do,” in March 2020. State suffrage leader Lenna Lowe Yost will be commemorated.

Wisconsin

The Wisconsin 19th Amendment Suffrage Centennial Celebration Committee, https://womensvote.wi.gov/pages/home.aspx, has news, resources, a very informative state Toolkit and downloadable displays.

Washington D.C.

The Women’s Vote Centennial Initiative hosts quarterly panels on topics related to the suffrage history in league with the National Archives. Past discussions are available online, www.2020centennial.org.

Women’s History Resource Catalog

Women’s Equality Day August 26th

The National Women’s History Alliance serves as the clearinghouse for multicultural women’s history. Discover the extraordinary expansion of new women’s history resources, visit the NWHA on-line store for celebration items, books, notecards, CD’s, DVD’s, posters, display sets, curriculum units and celebration kits and more. Visit us online at https://shop.nationalwomenshistoryalliance.org/store

2020 Women’s Suffrage Centennial Resources

19th Amendment

The U.S. Congress, after decades of rejection, finally passed the 19th Amendment to the Constitution in early June 1919. Then, to secure final ratification, three-quarters of the states needed to approve it. This launched an intense, fifteen-month campaign from June 1919 to August 1920 that involved hundreds of thousands of active supporters, women and men, in every state. It is with awe that we remember suffragists’ critical, nationwide drive in 1919 and 1920.

“The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.”

Use this day – and any other day – as a way to educate and inspire your community to celebrate women during the 2020 Women’s Suffrage Centennial.

Are There Books about Women's Suffrage in Your Library?

Dear Supporters of Women's History,

The Orange County Chapter of the National Organization for Women challenges other organizations, clubs, and groups to take action. In 2013, OC NOW made a decision to purchase the book, Winning the Vote: The Triumph of the American Woman Suffrage Movement. The original goal was to put one book in every Public High School in Orange County.

This year, on the cusp of 2020 and the 100th anniversary of the 19th Amendment, that goal is being realized. All 76 public high schools in Orange County, CA now have this phenomenal resource book in their library. Now many more high school students will have the opportunity to begin to understand the importance of women winning the vote AND the power of using their voices. Here’s hoping our action inspires others to spread the word!

26

Visit our webstore at www.nwhanews.org for full descriptions and images of these materials and many more. 707-636-2888

SPECIAL CENTENNIAL SALE

Winning the Vote: The Triumph of the American Woman Suffrage Movement is a remarkable book that chronicles the 72-year campaign to win the right vote for America women. Gorgeous 500-page hardback. Stunning and Oversized #0602 $49.95 each or $30.00 for 4 or more.

Women's Equality Day Kits

2019 Women's Equality Day Program Kit
#0534 $45.95
#0545 $55.95 (with DVD)
Everything you need for an educational, entertaining and successful Women's Equality Day Program in one convenient kit.

All items in this kit are available individually

Exclusive NWHA Women's Equality Day poster
18” x 24” #0298 $5.98

How Women Won the Vote Power Point. Exciting 15-20 minute PowerPoint CD presentation with 44 images with script that emphasizes the grit and determination of American suffragists winning the right to vote. #0999 $14.95

Women's History Logo Placemats Set of 30 10-1/2” x 15”
#1494 $3.98

25 Women’s Equality Day Bookmarks 8”x 2” #0493 $5.95
12 Women’s Equality Day red and blue balloons with Women’s Equality Day logo #7923 $4.95

Women’s Equality Day electronic logo #0913 $10.00
Votes for Women DVD upbeat 20-minute video #7220 $29.95
Women’s Equality Day Banner (11’ x 34”) paper banner with the classic suffrage image. #0388 $5.95

Celebrating Women and Democracy Kit
#0535 $39.95

All items are available individually

Votes for Women Balloons. Metallic gold balloons represent a facsimile of the balloons used by the suffragist of the early 19th century. 12 balloons #1033 $5.95

Celebrating Women Winning the Vote Poster - This classic image commemorates the passage of the 19th Amendment to the US Constitution. 18” by 24” #0947 $5.95

Votes for Women Poster Award-winning design created by Betha Boye when CA became the 6th state to enfranchise women. 14.5” x 24” #0840 $4.98

Celebrate Women Bookmarks 7”x 2” Featuring: Wilma Mankiller (1945-2010), Dolores Huerta (b. 1930), Eleanor Roosevelt (1884-1962), Yoshiko Unchida (1921-1962), Barbara Jordan (1936-1996) #7980 $2.98

Writing Women Back into History Banner with Celebrating Women & Democracy sticker. Paper banner is 11” x 34” #0938 $5.95

Celebrating Women & Democracy 15-minute speech/PowerPoint using examples of how Mankiller, Huerta, Roosevelt, Unchida and Jordan encouraged freedom and justice for all. #0103 $12.95
(sent via email)

Celebrating Women & Democracy electronic logo #0546 $10.00
(sent via email)

Visit our webstore at www.nwhanews.org for full descriptions and images of these materials and many more. 707-636-2888
American Woman Suffrage Postcards
American women's suffrage activists were fascinated with suffrage themed postcards. They collected them, exchanged them, wrote about them, used them as fundraisers and organized "postcard day" campaigns. Cataloging approximately 700 examples, this study examines the "visual rhetoric" of suffrage. Paper 368 pages, 8.2" x 1" x 10.8"
#0542 $39.95

Votes For Women Notecards
This award-winning design was created by Betha Boye of a western woman posed before the Golden Gate as the sun sets. After California's victory, the poster design was used in countless woman suffrage campaigns. 6 cards with envelopes
#0988 $9.95

Overlooked Sisters African American Suffragists
Leaders in the Woman Suffrage Movement - Mary Church Terrell, Ida B. Wells-Barnett, Mary Ann Shadd Cary and Francis E. W. Harper - 3 of each design. 12 cards with envelopes.
#0528 $19.95

Elegant Women Win the Vote sash is 2-ply satin, measures 4" x 70", and printed in traditional Purple, White, and Gold, with velcro closure
#0543 $19.95

This elegant parasol comes with one ruffle on the 48" white canopy, finished with a white plastic hook handle. Printed in purple to commemorate "WOMEN WIN THE VOTE" Centennial 1920 - 2020. Perfect for 2020 Centennial events – rain or shine.
#0544 $29.95

HerStory - Earth Momma
Pre-Release Women's Suffrage Centennial
Earth Mama's Latest CD Her Story is a lyrical collection of original songs honoring the lives, loves and work of women. Includes a new recording of Standing on the Shoulders anthem, new songs for Mother's Day. Powerful and Empowering.
#0530 $15.95

Hurrah For Woman Suffrage!
7 songs on CD. Forty minutes of historic songs from the Woman Suffrage Movement. By the Homespun Singers Included is a 16-page pamphlet giving a history of the suffrage music along with song sheets for a sing-along.
#0721 $12.00

Here's To The Women Music CDs
by artist Linda Allen
Twenty songs commemorating women's journey to justice, with an emphasis on the battle for the vote. Songs of weavers and quilters, suffragists and farmers, labor leaders and politicians, Rosie the Riveters and domestic workers. Genre: Folk: Modern Folk
#0945 $12.95

QuoteNotes are a series of note cards featuring inspirational quotes by Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Ernestine Rose, Susan B. Anthony, Sojourner Truth, Matilda Joslyn Gage and Inez Miholland. A brief bio and photo of the person are on the back. 5" x 7" notecards 2 each of 6 designs 12 cards with envelopes
#0475 $19.95

Visit our webstore at www.nwhanews.org for full descriptions and images of these materials and many more. 707-636-2888
Celebrating the Historic Anniversary of Women in the United States Winning the Right to Vote on August 26th

Women’s History Resource Catalog

Women’s History Resource Catalog

Visit our webstore at www.nwhanews.org for full descriptions and images of these materials and many more. 707-636-2888

Susan B. Anthony Suffrage Stamp Necklace
A silver-tone metal alloy bezel with glass dome and 24” nickel plated ball chain features a 1936 three cent Susan B. Anthony Suffrage for Women stamp. Approximately 1” x 1”. Designed by Heritage Artisan 0503 $10.00

NWH Heritage Pin
NWH logo pin. Synthetic cloisonné. Five enamel colors. Clutch attachment. .5” x 1.25” Gift boxed Made in USA. #0853 $14.95

2020 CENTENNIAL LAPEL PIN
2020 is the 100th anniversary of women in the United States winning the right to vote. Thousands have already begun organizing celebrations at the local, state and national level. Wear this pin to encourage others to begin to plan for this historic event. 1.25” Union made, gift-boxed with display card. #2112 $5.95

First Woman
A comprehensive tribute to the first women in government and to Hillary Clinton’s historic campaign for the presidency. Colorful 48-page Commemorative Edition acknowledges the many women who paved the way for women in government. 8½ x 11”, 48 pages, perfect bound, coated paper. Illustrated Bulk discounts: 1-4 $14.95, 5-9 $12.00, 10-24 $10.00, 25+ $8.00 #2016

Living the Legacy Poster
The poster features dozens of buttons from different types of campaigns and five photo collages depicting some of the ways we are “living the legacy” of women’s rights today. 20” x 28” “Living the Legacy” Poster #8901 $4.98

Votes for Women Poster
Award-winning design was created by Betha Boye when California became the 6th state to enfranchise women. After that victory, the poster design was used in countless woman suffrage campaigns. Poster size 14.5” x 24” #0850 $4.98

Votes for Women
Upbeat 20-minute video with archival photos, newsreels, live action & music. Gr. 7 - Adult DVD #0540 $29.95

ROSIE THE RIVETER
The Patriotic Embodiment of Women’s History

“We Can Do It!” Poster #0101 Authentic WWII Poster During World War II, the images of strong and capable “Rosie the Riveter” encouraged millions of women to help with the war effort. 18” x 24” $4.98 Rosie the Riveter #6519 A close look at that moment in history when women were in high demand for every imaginable kind of work. Told with dozens of personal accounts, photographs and illustrations. 120 pgs., paper. Gr. 5-12 $11.99

Rosie Water Bottle #1493
20-ounce aluminum water bottle 7.25” tall x 3” wide. $9.95

Rosie Note Cards #1910
Pack of 6 with yellow envelopes 5” x 7” Gift box $9.95

Rosie Lunch Box #1528
(7.5” x 6” x 4”) $10.95

Magnet #1517
Together We Can Do It 2” x 3” $5.00

CA Women Win the Vote
Includes the history, personalities, art & foundation of civil rights here & throughout the world. 39-min. DVD #8888 $39.95

Generations: American Women Win the Vote
For 72 years, generations of women from every state, race and religion fought for the right to vote, culminating with victory in Tennessee. 12 min #0478 $29.95

Women in American Life DVD . . . NOW ON SALE
Five unique video programs covering the lives of multicultural women in America from 1860s to the 1970s. (15-minute sections) A lively way to introduce women’s history to a school or adult audience. B/W Gr. 8-Adult 5 parts on a single DVD 0533 $19.95

Visit our webstore at www.nwhanews.org for full descriptions and images of these materials and many more. 707-636-2888
EXPANDING THE FOCUS OF WOMEN'S HISTORY

Women Win the Vote Gazette

What's Inside
- 100 Suffragist
- State Celebrations
- Historic Sites to Visit
- African American Suffragist
- Suffrage Events

Women Win the Vote Gazette

This 32-page special commemorative edition of “Women Win the Vote” is filled with news of 2019-20 events and special features including updates on state centennial activities, dispatches about national plans in the capital. Also included are 100 brief profiles of suffragists, a special salute to African American suffragist and multiple resources and celebration ideas.

#0202 $15 (25) copies

African American Women and the Vote 1837-1965

Written by leading scholars of African American and women's history, the essays in this volume seek to re-conceptualize the political history of black women in the United States by placing them “at the center of our thinking.”

Paper, 232 pages.

#0545 $24.95

Sisters in Spirit

The author recounts the compelling history of women’s struggle for freedom and equality in the USA and documents the Iroquois influence on this broad social movement.

Paper, 123 pages.

#0872 $11.95

The Women’s Suffrage Movement

This one-of-a-kind intersectional anthology is comprised of historical texts spanning two centuries. It is a comprehensive and singular volume with a distinctive focus on incorporating race, class, and gender, and illuminating minority voices.

Paper, 515 pages.

#0526 $18.00

The Vote: Women’s Fierce Fight

This comprehensive look at the African American women who fought for the right to vote analyzes the women’s own stories and examines why they joined and how they participated in the U.S. women’s suffrage movement.

Paper, 208 pages.

#0537 $20.00

African American Women in the Struggle for the Vote 1850-1920

Federally Employed Women (FEW) is a private, non-profit organization founded in 1968 after the issuance of Executive Order 11375 that added “sex” to the prohibited discriminations within the federal government. FEW is a membership organization working exclusively to end sex discrimination and towards the advancement of women in federal service.

Sponsored by Central Coast of California Chapter (in Monterey) and the Western Region of FEW. The Western Region is comprised of the Phoenix Valley of the Sun Chapter, the San Diego Chapter, the Southern California Gold Coast Chapter (Port Hueneme), and Gems of The Desert Chapter (Las Vegas).

Visit www.nwhanews.org for full descriptions and images of these materials and many more.

Visit www.nwhanews.org for full descriptions and images of these materials and many more.

Visit our webstore at www.nwhanews.org for full descriptions and images of these materials and many more. 707-636-2888
Our 2020 theme, Valiant Women of the Vote, celebrates the women who have fought for woman's right to vote in the United States. In recognition of the centennial of the 19th Amendment, we will honor women from the original suffrage movement as well as 20th and 21st-century women who have continued the struggle (fighting against poll taxes, literacy tests, voter roll purges and other more contemporary forms of voter suppression) to ensure voting rights for all.

The Symbolic Torch Lighting the Way to Equality

2020 torch was designed for the Women’s Vote Centennial Initiative. The torch embodies the suffrage movement and civil rights movements lighting the way to equality. Use these items to show your support for 2020 and help spread the word.

Magnet 2”x 3”
#0201 $3.00
Use this pin to show your support for 2020 and help us spread the word!

Button 2”x 3”
#0200 $2.50

Bookmarks 2”x 8”
25/pkg) #0522 $6.95
All products available for bulk discounts

— SAVE THE DATES —
The National Women’s History Alliance Networking Conference will be held in San Diego, CA on January 9-12, 2020

Hear Us Roar 2020 Women’s Suffrage Centennial Calendar

Featuring original artwork, archival photos and graphics, this 12-month calendar amplifies the ignored or suppressed voices of women of color and working class women and acknowledges that the campaign for true equality and liberation is ongoing. 12x12”, 18-month calendar (July 2019 to December 2020) 9” X 12”, purple coil binding. Key dates in the continuing struggle to gain the vote for all: from 1776 to the present. #0527 $15.95

Women and the Vote: Centennial Calendar

This 18-month calendar (July 2019 to December 2020) calendar celebrates the 100th anniversary of the 19th Amendment, women’s right to vote. Illustrated with historic photos and drawings of key actors and key dates in the continuing struggle to gain the vote for all from 1776 to the present. 9” x 12” purple coil binding. #0532 $20.00

Thanks to the National Women’s History Alliance for their tireless efforts to tell HerStory!
- Gerri Gribi

Visit our webstore at www.nwhanews.org for full descriptions and images of these materials and many more. 707-636-2888
Winning the Vote

The Triumph of the American Woman Suffrage Movement

By Robert P. J. Cooney, Jr.

This is the book to get.

Learn about the Women’s Suffrage Movement in an engaging and memorable way.

“Winning the Vote” is the principal reference that covers both the details of this great civil rights movement and the spirit that kept it alive. With 496 oversize pages, this beautiful First Edition features hundreds of historic photographs, color illustrations and original documents and profiles of more than 75 individual suffragists.

Specially priced so supporters can donate copies to high school, college and community libraries, this award winning clothbound book is available for only $30 each in orders of 4 or more. Individually priced at $49.95.

Order from the National Women’s History Alliance. Your group can make a lasting difference by donating copies of “Winning the Vote” to your local libraries before the centennial.

---

Women’s Suffrage Centennial Artwork

- 5 x 7 Notecards
- 9 x 12 Art Prints
- Archival Prints (Can last for generations)

Great for:  • Mementos  • Collectibles  • Donor Gifts  • Revenue-Boosters

Meneese Wall - Artist  •  meneesewall.com  •  meneese@meneesewall.com

Copyright law prohibits the reproduction or use of any artwork without written permission from the artist.

---

Amending America: How Women Won the Vote

Contact Kate at 301-622-1588

www.katecampbellstevenson.com

---

Happy 200th Birthday, Susan B!

In 2020, as we celebrate 100 years since the ratification of the 19th Amendment, we’re also celebrating Susan B. Anthony’s 200th birthday and the Anthony Museum’s 75th anniversary. Join us in Rochester, NY for the celebrations!

susanb.org