Suffrage Centennial Catalog

Celebrating the 100th Anniversary of the Women's Suffrage Movement that Won Voting Rights for American Women through the 19th Amendment

Suffragists gathered to sell pennants and merchandise in Long Beach, New York, in 1912.

This special catalog was created during the quarantine of April and May 2020 to more aggressively promote the suffrage centennial in response to the impact of the corona virus pandemic. Many long-planned events and exhibits across the country had to be cancelled or postponed so the NWA wanted to encourage and support celebrations and further activity in the second half of the year and throughout 2021.

Our goal is to raise the visibility of the centennial and promote those who are recognizing this historic anniversary. We hope you will:

- Visit the state centennial websites and see the many resources they offer in addition to products,
- Enjoy high quality commemorative items now easily available, and
- Support the state and local groups, artists, nonprofits and businesses that are all proudly honoring passage of the 19th Amendment. Just about every source offers more than is listed here..

Ordering is through the link under each item. There is also a master list of sources and links in the back of the catalog on pages 38-39. We encourage you to visit the state centennial group websites listed on pages 26-27 (many do not have stores so aren't on the Sources list). Quantities may be limited, so order now; collectible items will soon be history. Prices and inventory may change. This is not a comprehensive list; much more is available from these sources and others. The NWA makes no guarantees and makes no money from this catalog. It is offered as a contribution to the goal of reimagining and rewriting our history to celebrate the lives and accomplishments of multicultural American women. Additional information is on page 26.

Welcome to the Suffrage Centennial Catalog

How to Order: The first words under each item (in italics) identify the source and the link is below. Use that link or the Master List on Pages 38 & 39. Click on the source's Store and order directly from them, not from the NWHM (unless it's the source). Most of these items are available only from state centennial groups and supportive artists and organizations across the country. This catalog exists to share the excitement of the 100th anniversary of Votes for Women and highlight the existence and resources of centennial groups in nearly every state.

List of Suffrage Centennial Groups in Each State

[Not the Source List for Ordering – See Pages 38 & 39]

This catalog was created by the National Women's History Alliance to make more people aware of the women's suffrage centennial efforts in each state and nationally.

These exciting State Centennial group websites (right) offer a wide array of resources, new research, information on state history and local suffragists, calendars of events, curricula, links and more.

Nearly half have stores and all offer information, educational materials and historical background that make each site a rich and rewarding attraction. There are plenty of examples and new ideas here. You don't have to live in Utah to appreciate what the site "Better Days" offers. Spend some time and tell your friends.

Nationally, major efforts include the Votes for Women Trail (ncwhs.org), documenting suffrage-related historical sites in every state, and Turning Point Suffragist Memorial (SuffragistMemorial.org), building a new national suffrage memorial park. Monumental Women (MonumentalWomen.org) is unveiling the suffrage statue in New York's Central Park on August 26.

The League of Women Voters is a reliable center for information in each state. For those seeking original suffrage material, check APIC (APIC.us), ebay or Heritage Auctions.

The goal of the National Women's History Alliance is to "write women back into history" and to celebrate the lives and accomplishments of multicultural American women. The 40-year-old Alliance serves as a vital center for information, programs and focused work that brings together those who share our aim of making all women's lives more visible and valued.

Remember, the suffrage celebration is extending through 2020 and into 2021 to make up for lost time. Honor our foremothers and the roots of women's participation in American politics. Celebrate their historic accomplishments and keep up to date with the listings of events in every state.
